

LOVING IS NOT GUILTY

JURY IN VIRGINIA "UNWRITTEN LAW" CASE FINDS VERDICT OF ACQUITTAL.

WAS OUT BUT A FEW MINUTES

Fear for Defendant's Life—Father of Man Killed Will Try to Prove His Son Innocent of Assaulting the Girl.

Houston, Va., June 29.—The jury in the case of Judge William G. Loving, on trial here for the murder of Theodore Estes, returned a verdict of not guilty at 4:50 o'clock this afternoon.

It required only a few minutes to reach this conclusion and the finding was applauded by the crowd which filled the court room.

Judge Loving's defense was the "unwritten law," based upon the claim that his victim had drugged and abused his daughter, Elizabeth while they were buggy riding.

When on her knees, his daughter told him the story, Loving took his shotgun, drove to Lovington, and that afternoon shot Estes while the latter was engaged in his regular business pursuit.

Loving is the personal representative of Thomas F. Ryan in the management of the New York millionaire's vast Virginia estate.

This morning, in summing up for the defense, Senator Barksdale based his plea almost entirely on the preservation of the sanctity of the home. He said:

"We are not appealing to you on the 'unwritten law,' but on the law that is written on your hearts and was in the hearts of your forefathers."

Fears for His Life.

It developed today that Judge Loving has been warned that if he was acquitted he will be killed. His friends have taken precautions to guard him.

Believing that Judge Loving will be acquitted by the jury, the father and his friends have been planning other means of clearing the dead man's name of the stain cast upon it by Miss Elizabeth Loving's testimony in behalf of the defense.

Sheriff M. K. Estes, of Nelson county, the father of the man who was killed, was greatly disappointed at the ruling of Judge Barksdale, by which testimony to show the falsity of Miss Loving's testimony was declared inadmissible.

Could Not Assail Her Story.

Judge Barksdale held, as did Justice Fitzgerald in the Shaw case, that the truth or falsity of Miss Loving's statement was not material, so long as she had actually made the statement to her father.

Sheriff Estes is one of the substantial citizens of Nelson county. Pretty nearly everybody in the county who is not related to the Lovings is related by blood or marriage to the Estes family.

"This case will not end here," Sheriff Estes said today. "The good name of my son will not let it stop with the acquittal of Judge Loving. I am not here to hang Loving. I would not hang him or any other man, but the law can do with him as it will. By a technicality of the law the calumny cast upon the character of my dead son still rests upon him."

"I am not seeking vengeance. Nothing is further from my desires. All I want to do is to clear the good name of my boy. If he was the assailant of a woman I want to know it, although should it prove true it would kill me."

Estes to Bring Civil Suit.

Sheriff Estes has been advised by his counsel that the evidence stricken out by Judge Barksdale's ruling may be brought out through a civil suit. Now that Loving is acquitted Estes will return to his home at Lovington and direct his lawyers to ask for the appointment of an administrator for the estate of his son. The administrator could bring suit against Judge Loving for damages for the killing of the young man.

By this suit, which has the sanction of Daniel Harmon, who is assisting State's Attorney Bouldin in the prosecution of Loving, it is proposed to show that Judge Loving was not justified in shooting young Estes, who, it will be claimed, was not guilty of an impropriety toward Miss Loving. The Estes side of the memorable buggy ride will be brought out in full at this trial.

Feud Is Predicted.

That such a suit would still further tear asunder the Loving-Estes factions in Nelson county is admitted. It may precipitate a feud, something many persons have been fearful of since the killing of young Estes.

Sheriff Estes is a boyhood friend of Thomas F. Ryan and is the only man remaining in Lovington who went to school here with him. The friendship between them is close. After the shooting of young Estes by Judge Loving, who is resident manager of Ryan's Virginia estate, Ryan wrote a personal note to Sheriff Estes, assuring him of his sympathy. The Estes family deny positively that Ryan is supplying any part of the money with which Judge Loving is conducting his defense.

The Pettis county court will be in session at the court house tomorrow.

MAY DIE OF HER HURTS

MRS. ALONZO GARBER WAS POSSIBLY FATALY INJURED SATURDAY.

VICTIM OF A RUNAWAY ACCIDENT

Found Unconscious at Seventeenth Street and Kentucky Avenue—Four Physicians Were at Her Bedside.

Mrs. Alonzo Garber, a trained nurse and wife of a Katy shopman, residing a short distance this side of old Forest park, on Kentucky avenue, is lying in a critical condition at her home, suffering from injuries received in a runaway accident at 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

No one saw the accident, but Joseph Meaeefe, a contractor, working in South Sedalia, caught a runaway horse that belonged to Mrs. Garber, which was attached to a one-seated vehicle, in which Mrs. Garber was riding. The animal was caught in the alley between Osage and Kentucky avenue, on Fifteenth street.

Mrs. Garber was found about the noon hour by two ice men. She was lying in the grass near the corner of Seventeenth street and Kentucky avenue, unconscious and badly bruised and cut up.

She was removed to her home and Drs. Shirk and Cole and two other physicians were summoned, but the exact extent of the patient's injuries are not known.

However, it is thought that she is internally injured, as she has remained unconscious since the time of the accident, and the physicians predict that she will not recover.

PROGRAMME IS ARRANGED

Old Settlers' Association Promises Big Time for the Fourth.

The Old Settlers' association of Pettis county met in regular session at Dr. R. T. Miller's office Saturday and formed an outline of the program to be carried out at Liberty park on July 4, when the annual "home coming" of the association will be commemorated.

A band has been engaged for the occasion and will render two concerts during the forenoon, after which dinner will be served on the grounds from 1 to 2 p. m. Visitors will then assemble at the grand stand and prayer will be led by the oldest minister in the county, Dr. W. H. Rogers, of near this city.

Brief addresses will be made by Hon. John T. Heard, Col. John D. Crawford and other members of the association.

The arrangement committee is also arranging to have a fat man's race, those entered to weigh over 250 pounds, also a fat ladies' race, automobile and bicycle races and the like.

Cloudburst at Warrensburg.

A cloudburst occurred at Warrensburg Saturday and the Missouri Pacific station was almost flooded. The water ran in torrents all over the platform and greatly inconvenienced passengers to and from the trains.

SCANDAL IN THE ARMY

WIDOW OF LATE "BLACK JACK" LOGAN ACCUSES HER SON-IN-LAW.

SCANDALOUS CONDUCT CHARGE

Lieutenant-Colonel Tucker's Name Mixed Up With a Filipino Woman—Wife Is Now in Washington.

Washington, June 29.—What promises to develop the biggest scandal in years, among army officers has been precipitated through the action of Mrs. John A. Logan, widow of the famous civil war general, in filing a complaint at the war department alleging scandalous conduct on the part of her son-in-law, Lieutenant Colonel William F. Tucker. If an investigation already begun by the war department should substantiate her statements, Lieutenant Colonel Tucker stands in danger of court martial. The case has recalled allegations against other army officers involving Filipino women.

Lieutenant Colonel Tucker and his wife, Mrs. Logan's daughter, recently separated. Mrs. Tucker is now in Washington, living with her mother, and her husband, Lieutenant Colonel Tucker, is stationed in Chicago performing his duties as paymaster of the Department of the Lakes.

The complaint filed by Mrs. Logan, it is asserted, is based upon the way her son-in-law conducted himself while stationed in the Philippines. Lieutenant Colonel Tucker was assigned to duty in Manila several years ago and only recently returned and assumed duty in Chicago.

Officials of the war department decline to make public the nature of Mrs. Logan's allegations, and Mrs. Tucker herself will not talk about them. When the paymaster was first sent to the Far East he was accompanied by his wife. She returned a year ago on account of the death of her little son. Mrs. Tucker subsequently learned of the conduct of her husband, which led to the separation and filing of Mrs. Logan's complaint. When Mrs. Logan was informed of the situation she became highly indignant and not only approved of her daughter's separation from her husband, but came to Washington two weeks ago especially for the purpose of acquainting the war department with all the facts as she knew them.

There is no doubt that Mrs. Logan's action was embarrassing to the department. Scandals, especially of a family character, and having the Philippines as their scene are not relished by the army, because of the effect upon the entire service. Mrs. Logan was insistent, however, that action be taken upon her complaint and as a result it was decided to have two officers of the inspector general's department make a thorough investigation.

The officers charged with this duty were Major J. G. Galbraith and Major Parker W. West, both assistants to the inspector general. Major Galbraith returned today from Chicago, where, it is said, he saw Lieutenant Colonel Tucker and received his explanation. Major West is in San Francisco seeing persons who know about the case.

The military authorities recently issued an official order in regard to the relations which should exist between army men stationed in the Far Eastern archipelago and Filipino women. These relations have tended to bring disgrace upon the army and a number of courts martial have occurred which have resulted in the dismissal of the officers involved. Several months ago an order was issued prohibiting officers from living with Filipino women on the ground that such conduct was a disgrace to the service and the flag and prescribing the penalty of dismissal for every person found violating it. The department feels that in no case can it go behind this order, no matter how high the officer or how strong the political and other influence he may be able to muster.

Until the circulation of the rumors that Mrs. Tucker and her husband had agreed to separate it was generally believed that the couple were happily married. Mrs. Tucker formerly was known as Miss "Dolly" Logan. They have living one son, who is an officer in the navy.

So far as Lieutenant Colonel Tucker is concerned there is absolutely no flaw in his military record. "He was born in Massachusetts March 1, 1854, and at the age of 28 was appointed major and paymaster. An Illinois regiment was accredited with his appointment. He served at various army posts throughout the country performing good service and during the war with Spain was stationed at Atlanta, Ga. Tucker received his promotion to the grade of deputy paymaster general with the rank of lieutenant colonel in February, 1903. He was sent to the Philippines, where he rendered excellent official services. His last assignment is at Chicago.

NEW GOVERNOR OF NEW MEXICO REMOVES PRISON SUPERINTENDENT.

CHARGES INHUMANITY TO CONVICTS

Was an Appointee of Governor Hagerman and Was Free in Expressing Himself Regarding the Latter's Removal.

Santa Fe, N. M., June 29.—The acting governor, J. W. Reynolds, has summarily removed Arthur Trelford, of Leavenworth, Kan., from the superintendency of the territorial penitentiary upon report of the attorney general, George W. Prichard, as referee, that charges of inhuman treatment of convicts had been proved. Governor Reynolds appointed Marion Littrel, formerly of Arkansas, to succeed Trelford.

Leavenworth, Kan., June 29.—Arthur Trelford, removed as superintendent of the New Mexican penitentiary, lived here until two years ago and was an officer of the federal penitentiary. He came here as a prison guard and after working under Major R. W. Claughey several years was advanced and made captain of the day guard force. Trelford was looked upon as a strict disciplinarian while here. Trelford was in charge of the guards and the prisoners in the stockade at the time of the big federal penitentiary mutiny Nov. 7, 1901. The convict leaders of the mutiny planned to kill him, but he escaped by breaking away when they had revolvers leveled at him and later secured arms and joined in the chase that resulted in running them down.

Trelford was taken from here to New Mexico, with a view of reorganizing the prison force and putting the territorial penitentiary on a higher plane. He became involved in the political controversy that resulted in the removal of Governor Hagerman, who appointed him. While here two months ago on a visit Trelford gave an interview to a local paper, which indirectly criticised President Roosevelt and this was copied in New Mexico papers and was used against Governor Hagerman and Trelford both. Friends of Trelford living here have expected to hear of his removal as superintendent of the New Mexican penitentiary for the past month.

TO GO TO HANNIBAL

Remains of Late Joseph Cohn Will Be Interred in That City.

The remains of Joseph Cohn, of Warrensburg, father of Julius Cohn, of this city, arrived here from Warrensburg at 9:10 o'clock last night and were taken to the parlors of the Sedalia Undertaking company. The body will be placed on Katy train No. 2 this morning and taken to Hannibal, where interment will be made. The following relatives accompanied the remains: Mrs. H. E. Shiller, of Salt Lake City, Utah; Mr. and Mrs. Philip Zukak, of Warrensburg; Simon Kern and Jacob Strouse, both of McPherson, Kas.; Mrs. Chas. Youngheim, of Wichita, Kas.; and Mr. and Mrs. Julius Cohn, of this city.

DR. FERGUSON WON CASE

SUPREME COURT HANDED DOWN OPINIONS IN SUITS SATURDAY.

THE LOWER COURT IS SUSTAINED

Fourth Street Paving Cases, Which Were Won by the Property Owners, Are Reversed and Remanded.

The Missouri supreme court handed down opinions Saturday in favor of the plaintiff in two renowned Pettis county cases, the title of each being Dr. W. J. Ferguson versus Mrs. Bettie Gentry and her children.

The deceased wife of Dr. Ferguson was a daughter of Mrs. Gentry. Mrs. Ferguson died without making a will—or, rather, she made a will, but Judge Parsons refused to admit it to probate, on the ground that the witness to the document did not sign it in her presence.

Dr. Ferguson brought suit in the Pettis county circuit court for one-half of the share of the real estate that would have been his wife's, more than 600 acres of land, worth possibly $75 an acre, being involved.

Suit was also brought for one-half of the personal property left by Mrs. Ferguson, valued at something like $4,000.

The two suits were tried before Judge Longan, and a decision given in each in favor of the plaintiff. An appeal was taken to the supreme court by the defendants, and Saturday that body affirmed the decision of the lower court.

The attorneys for Dr. Ferguson were Sangree & Bohling, Montgomery & Montgomery and C. E. Yeater, while those for the defendant were W. D. Steele, Geo. P. B. Jackson, of St. Louis; Judge W. M. Williams, of Booneville, and N. T. Gentry, of Jefferson City.

The supreme court Saturday also handed down an opinion in the West Fourth street paving cases of Contractor Taylor against D. H. Smith et al., which were tried two years ago before Judge Longan and decided in favor of the defendants, on the ground that the council proceedings providing for the paving were irregular.

The supreme court reversed and remanded the cases and they will now have to be tried again.

George W. Barnett and John Cashman were attorneys for the property owners, while Contractor Taylor's interests were looked after by Chas. E. Yeater, J. H. Bothwell and Scarritt, Griffith & Jones, of Kansas City. The decisions in the above cases were by Justice Valliant for the court, Justice Lamm not sitting, having been of counsel.

DEATH OF MRS BAKER

Funeral Held Saturday Afternoon, Rev. Parsons Conducting Services

Mrs. Emma Baker, wife of T. C. Baker, a Katy fireman, died of a cancer at her home, 915 East Fifth street, at 4 o'clock Friday afternoon, aged 31 years. Besides her husband, she leaves one child.

Rev. James Parsons conducted funeral services at the residence at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and the body was shipped to Ellis, Mo., on the evening train, where interment will be made.

The pallbearers follow: Addis Fifer, F. L. Sanders, F. L. Smith, H. W. Stark, John Bond and W. D. Moore.

Deceased belonged to Queen City hive No. 7, L. O. T. M., also the ladies' auxiliary to the B. of L. F. The former organization conducted services, while a large number of members of both organizations attended the funeral.

Mesdames Della Smith, Josie Fifer and Laura Hoover accompanied the remains to Ellis to remain until after the interment. The three ladies represent the ladies' auxiliary to the Firemen.

Doubles His Fee for Service.

Under a new law, passed by he last legislature, Constable J. E. Love will receive sixty cents for serving a civil summons, instead of receiving thirty cents as heretofore.

Former Sedalian Released.

Jake Bauer, the old Sedalia outfielder, has been released by Sioux City in the Western league. He is not hitting the ball as he did in the early part of the season and is playing a poor game in the field. However, he is still a good enough player and will doubtless catch on with some team.

He Has Gone Hence.

Andy Stanley, a negro, who has been engaged in the tailoring and suit pressing business in the Ilgenritz building, is reported to have skipped the town, leaving behind several sad creditors.

Hail Damaged Crops.

Farmers in from Green Ridge Saturday reported a very heavy fall of hail in that part of the county, which did great damage to all varieties of crops, and especially the uncut wheat and oats.

THOMAS L STEELE AND FAMILY GO TO COLORADO SPRINGS.

SON KILLED IN A RAILROAD WRECK

Was a Former Sedalian and Had Many Friends Who Knew Him Here—Was Engineer on the Cripple Creek Line.

Thomas L. Steele, accompanied by his wife and daughter, Miss Belle, left Saturday afternoon for Colorado Springs, Colo., where at 3 o'clock this afternoon funeral services will be conducted over the remains of his son, Ernest Steele, a former Sedalian, recently an engineer on the Cripple Creek and Colorado Springs Short Line railway, who was killed in a wreck at Cameron, Colo., Thursday morning.

The services will be held at the First Christian church at Colorado Springs and interment will be made in the cemetery there.

Mr. Steele was about 30 years old, and left Sedalia about twelve years ago for Colorado, where he had resided since. He held membership in the Masons, likely under whose auspices the funeral services will be held, and he also belonged to the B. of L. E.

Besides his parents, he leaves a wife, also a brother, Bruce Steele, of Colorado Springs, and three sisters, Mrs. O. H. Lawson, of Clinton, Ill.; Mrs. Della Taylor, of Colorado Springs, and Miss Belle Steele, of Sedalia.

Mrs. Dawson and family passed through here on Missouri Pacific train No. 1 Saturday on their way from Clinton to Colorado Springs to attend the funeral.

STRUCK CHURCH STEEPLE

German Lutheran Edifice Sustained Damage by Lightning.

Lightning struck the steeple of the German Lutheran church on the east side of Lafayette avenue, between Fifth and Sixth streets, at 4:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon, badly damaging the steeple and ruining the lighting service, so as to render it necessary for repairs. In consequence no evening services will be held at the church today, but the morning services will be held the same as usual.

SIX INCHES OF HAIL

Reports From Windroß Show Great Damage.

Special to Democrat-Sentinel.

Windsor, Mo., June 29.—A heavy rain and hail storm visited this vicinity today and completely ruined crops in a stretch two and one-half miles wide by twelve miles long. Trees were blown down and hundreds of poultry killed.

Hail fell in some places to a depth of six inches and some of the stones were as large as turkey eggs. The money damage is very large.

MISS COLLINS MARRIED

CEREMONY UNITING HER WITH MR. TULEY TOOK PLACE SATURDAY NOON.

THEY WILL TAKE AN EASTERN TRIP

Home Will Be in Springfield, Where Groom Has Position With Construction Company—Many Good Wishes for Them.

Standing beneath a large bell in the alcove of the Collins home, 710 West Seventh street, and amid profuse and artistic decorations of pink and white, and to the tune of Lohengrin's wedding march, with Miss Jessie Smith at the piano, William F. Tuley, second eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. George F. Tuley, and Miss Mary Ethel Collins, daughter of Mayor and Mrs. John A. Collins, were happily united in holy bonds of matrimony by Rev. D. M. Claggett, pastor of the Broadway Presbyterian church, at high noon Saturday.

The bride, attired in a beautiful gown of white and green, the two preceded by little Mazie Ramsey, took their place beneath the wedding bell at the hour stated, and as Rev. Claggett pronounced the words that united the hearts of the two into one and made them man and wife the beautiful ring ceremony was carried out.

Following the ceremony, the wedding cake was cut, after which a light luncheon was served, and amid happy congratulations of relatives and friends and showers of rice, the bridal couple boarded Missouri Pacific train No. 2 for a trip east, after which they will be at home to their friends at Springfield, Mo.

Almost one hundred and fifty guests attended the affair, and the number were several among relatives of the bride. A town presents numbered beautiling of silverware and cutlery, by the relatives and friends of the couple, while from the father of the bride came a check for $100.

Mr. Tuley is a genial and well liked young man of splendid business ability and possessed of a jovial disposition that makes him admired by his friends, while his bride is one of the city's most lovable young girls, with a legion of friends, who join the Democrat-Sentinel in extending congratulations.

SCHOOL BOARD MEETING

The Resignations of Three Teachers Were Accepted.

The Sedalia school board met at the High school building Friday night.

The resignations of Prof. C. A. Deppe, Mrs. Cameron Garrett and Miss Louella Hoffman were accepted, and Prof. Leo Gallaher was elected to succeed Prof. Deppe, resigned. Miss Hoffman's successor will be named by the teachers' committee of the school board later.

Miss Edna Burrowes, who taught grade No. 4 of Prospect school, and a year ago was granted a leave of absence for the term, was re-elected. Miss Ferdonia Abbott was re-elected to teach in the Lincoln school.

The time for the final limit for teachers to sign their contracts was set for July 15, and Sam Ramsey was appointed janitor to clean the public schools during the summer months.

No time has been set for the signing of teachers.

SHOCKED BY LIGHTNING

Mr. Thomas L. Fleming Had a Close Call Saturday.

During the electrical storm Saturday morning the lightning struck a large double locust tree in the yard of Thomas L. Fleming, who resides two miles north of town.

Mr. Fleming was sitting on a barrel in his barn door, a short distance away, and he was thrown from the barrel to the ground, but fortunately, aside from the shock, received no injury.

ANOTHER EVIL HABIT.
If the charge that the absinthe habit is spreading in this country is true, then the department of agriculture is taking a wise step in looking into the matter with a view to restrictive legislation. Absinthe, the selective green liquor flavored from the oil of the wormwood shrub, has been the cause of more hopeless drunkards and fatalities than all other sorts of drugs and liquors combined. There is no question that the use of the liquor is becoming more common in this country, because where a decade ago its sale was confined to a few bars outside the cities of San Francisco and New Orleans, it is now obtainable in almost any grocery in the United States. The most of it is alleged imported poison, but it is said that there is also a big manufacturing interest in it growing up in this country. If it is to be put down at all, the government cannot start too soon, for the hardest evil to eradicate is the one with a vested money interest behind it. This country has enough vices and tipples of purely native origin without importing any and the quicker the manufacture and sale of absinthe is discouraged the better.

HARD ON CONSUMPTIVES.
Former Surgeon General Sternberg, who is one of the best authorities on tuberculosis in this country, deplors that action of the state of Texas announced this week of barring con-sumptives from its borders. Gen.
Sternberg is a man who speaks with authority, and he says that not only is the action of the Texas authorities very hard on the consumptives themselves, but that it is a useless precaution aimed to secure an object that could be just as well reached in a more sane and conservative way. It has been abundantly proved that tuberculosis may be infectious, undoubtedly, but that it is not contagious and that with proper care a consumptive, even in the same room, is no more of a menace than an Egyptian mummy. What is needed in the case of consumptives is not cruel restrictive legislation, but general education on the part of the public and the legislative authorities. The Texas health authorities are parties to the tuberculosis congress and it is surprising and painful to see them countenancing a measure that is not only useless, but harsh and unjust to the tubercular sufferers.

THE SAN FRANCISCO STRIKE.

The news from San Francisco that the telegraphers' strike there is assuming serious proportions, is not cheering. Just when reports showed that the companies and the operators were getting together in all other parts of the country, the break there seems most inopportune. Yet there is a reason for it. Living expenses in San Francisco have increased out of all proportion to the reason for their advance. To be sure the city has suffered almost complete demolition by earthquake and fire, and some advance in living expenses was to be expected.

The telegraph operators have not been the only ones to feel the pinch by any means, but they have been in a position to strike through the operations made by themselves and their colleagues all over the country. They have had good reasons for striking and they have their friends in many other labor unions to thank for the situation. It would be a good thing for San Francisco if an impartial commission could get to work there and scale down some of the prices of labor and material at the same time.

Mr. Barr, the new exposition manager at Jamestown, is reported to be making things hum. This is good news because the noise floating in from that direction heretofore has sounded more like the creak of ungreased gurgles.

Mayor Schmitz says he is going to be careful about his associates in the future. If he should get what a good many people think he deserves his associates will wear striped uniforms.

plished fact, we know what would happen to the thread trust that has just advanced the retail price of spool cotton.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson says that the price of meat is going to keep on advancing. That sounds like another boost for his protégé, the great American hen.

Family of 21 and All Are at Home

Coleman, Mich., June 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Frank Methner have had twenty-four children, seventeen of whom are alive. Mr. Methner by a former wife is the father of six, two of whom are alive. The present family of twenty-one live on a farm six miles from Coleman, Midland county, Mich.,
happy and prosperous.
Methner is a German, 63 years old.
His wife is 45. Only three of these children have been girls, and the ages of the survivors range from 1 to 33 years. The father buys stock, the eldest son runs a meat market in Coleman, a second son does the slaughtering and another son runs a milk wagon.
The eldest daughter attends to the house work and cooking, with the assistance of some of the younger boys, while the mother works out of doors all the time and makes all the sausages and pressed meats for the market. The family consumes more than a bucketful of potatoes a day, and all other edibles, of course, in proportion.

HE KILLED HIS BROTHER

MOTHER WAS IN SEDALIA WHEN INFORMED BY WIRE OF THE BOY'S DEATH.

VICTIM WAS ONLY SIX YEARS OLD

Shot by His Brother, Only Ten Years Old, Who Secreted the Body
After the Style of an Older Person.

The Democrat-Sentinel last Sunday chronicled the receipt of a telegram by Mrs. Mary Holland, employed at the home of Mrs. Belle Asher in this city, apprising her that one of her sons had been killed by his brother in St. Clair county, Mo., but no particulars were given. Mrs. Holland departed at once for Osceola, and from the Osceola Republican the following account of the tragedy is clipped:
About a mile southwest of Monegaw Springs, in the southeast corner of Osage township and near the Osage river is the home of William Holland, a well known farmer, who has resided there for a long term of years and where a shocking tragedy occurred last Sunday afternoon about 4 or 5 o'clock, in which Marion, his little son, lost his life at the hands of his little brother.
Mr. Holland had been to Monegaw during the day, and left the two boys, Jimmie and Marion, aged 10 and 6 years, respectively, at home, their mother being quarantined near Sedalia, where she has been for some time; and when he returned home at about 6 o'clock the younger boy was missing.
The father questioned Jimmie regarding his whereabouts and he said he did not know; that he had been asleep and that when he was aroused his brother was gone.
Mr. Holland made a search down on the river for the missing boy, and remembering some guns were at the house it occurred to him to investigate them and see if they had been molested.
The first inspected was a double-barreled shot gun, which gave no evidence of having been fired. Next, he took down a single barreled shot gun and found it had been used recently. This aroused graver suspicions in the father's mind and turning to the boy he said:
"You know where Marion is, and you can tell the truth and I want you to tell it."
Jimmie's response was: "What would they do with me?" The father replied: "Tell the truth and they won't do anything."
The boy then admitted he had shot his brother, but claimed it was by accident. The father demanded to know where the body was and the boy led they way about fifty feet from the house and showed where he had dragged the body, thrown it over a stone wall and covered it with an old gun coat.
Jimmie claimed he had taken the gun down for some purpose and had it pointed upward, but could not pull the trigger and let the hammer down, and in lowering it the gun went off, the entire charge of small shot striking the younger boy from the waist to the head, and probably killing him almost instantly.
From the story told by Jimmie, the boys were about fifteen feet apart when the weapon was discharged.
The exact hour of the shooting is not known, but the body was stiff when examined at the inquest held as soon as possible after the discovery.
Although young in years, it seems Jimmie entertained ideas of putting people out of the way previous to his escapade of Sunday, which is evidenced by the testimony of Frank Chaney, a nearby neighbor, who was a witness at the coroner's inquest.
Chaney says that at some time letting some of his boys "come over and help kill his daddy." To ascertain what he would say, Mr. Chaney asked what he would do with him, and the boy replied: "Drag him down and throw him in the Osage river."

WILL HOLD MEMORIAL

APACHE TRIBE OF RED MEN WILL HAVE CHARGE OF SERVICES ALONE.

WICHITA TRIBE DIDN'T LIKE BAND

Decided Not to Participate as a Body
on That Account—The Trouble
Brought About Because Band
Is Non-Union.

An anticipated in Thursday's Democrat-Sentinel, Apache tribe No. 55, I. O. R. M., will hold their annual memorial services of the order separately and not in conjunction with Wichita tribe No. 108, as was the original intention, because the latter tribe "balked" at participation in a parade where music was furnished by a non-union band.

Apache tribe members will assemble at their wigwam in the Eagles' hall at 3 o'clock and Great Sachem H. H. Edwards will preside. Sacred music of five numbers will be furnished by the Sedalia Military band. The program for the services follows:

Address—H. H. Edwards.
Address—Floyd Williams.
Address—David Bulkley.
Address—W. D. O'Bannon.
Violin solo—Miss Lillie Brandt.
Vocal solo—Miss Victory Ramsey.
Piano accompaniment by Miss Margaret Edwards.

When the memorial services of the Red Men were first thought of, Apache and Wichita tribes formed a plan, whereby both tribes could participate in the services. It was decided to hold them at the Fifth Street M. E. church, South.

Homer Robbins, a member of Apache tribe, on his own hook and defraying all expenses himself, engaged the services of the Sedalia Military band to furnish the music.

Union musicians belonging to Wichita tribe objected, and after several conferences with committees from both tribes, finally decided not to take any part whatever, consequently Apache tribe will hold the services alone.

Although Apache tribe will hold the services, quite a few of the Wichita tribe members, who are dissatisfied with the action taken by the

PLACATED MR. DAN SAMSON.

Colored Minister's "Retraction" a Triumph of Ingenuity.

In Mississippi there was a colored preacher noted in those parts for his extreme frankness and candor of his exhortations to his wicked brethren to reform. On one occasion, relates Representative John Sharp Williams, the divine was holding forth on the sin of theft. Among other things he said: "I see befo' me ten chicken thieves, includin' Dan Samson." This bald statement of fact rather aroused the resentment of the aforesaid Samson, and he threatened the minister with personal violence. The latter's friends persuaded the divine to withdraw the accusation if Samson would promise not to offer the minister any hurt. The question seemed about to be adjusted, it being settled that the clergyman should, on the following Sunday, publicly retract his statement as to the honesty of Mr. Samson.

Therefore, rising in the pulpit on the day appointed, the minister said: "It 'pears dat a remark of mine, in de sermon of last Sunday, has been de cause of offense, an' I derefore amends it. What I should have said was dis: 'I see befo' me ten chicken thieves, not includin' Dan Samson.'"—Harper's Weekly.

THE NATIONAL CAPITAL

TREASURY OF UNITED STATES IS IN A SATISFACTORY CONDITION.

WILL OPEN LANDS TO SETTLEMENT

Great White Chief Resigns Position—
Increase in Head Tax On Immigrants—New Pure Food Law Laboratories.

Special to Democrat-Sentinel.

Washington, June 29.—The treasury of the United States is in a far better condition than it was believed it would be at the beginning of the fiscal year, which legally expires at midnight tomorrow night. Then it was estimated that the surplus would be about $25,000,000. Instead, the total for the year will be in the immediate neighborhood of $75,000,000, or more than a dozen times as much as the surplus from the previous fiscal year, which was a little over $6,000,000.

This increase is opportune, since the four per cent bonds which mature tomorrow are to be in part redeemed in cash. These bonds aggregate $36,000,000 and will be reduced by the secretary of the treasury on and after Monday. A considerable portion of the sum will be received from the national banks as the result of a call for $30,000,000 of government deposits, payable July 10. This sum represents special deposits made September 27, 1906, and of the total New York banks hold about $6,000,000.

Altogether, the financial outlook is considered favorable by the treasury officials. Early in the fiscal year of 1906 there were numerous predictions of a deficit which were not realized. This year the conservative estimates of the surplus are realized three-fold. The strong boxes of Uncle Sam are bulging with coin and the government at Washington still lives.

By order of the general land office here, Monday has been designated as the date for opening the Chippewa Indian reservation in Minnesota. There are 229,297 acres of the lands and they will be opened to settlement under the homestead laws.

In Hawaii 172,780 acres of rich lands will revert to the government of the territory Monday as a result of the expiration of a long lease held by the Hawaiian agricultural company, which secured the tract for an annual rental of three-fourths of a cent per acre. The land includes 7,000 acres of forest reserve, 743 acres of cane land, 50,000 acres of grazing land, the remainder being of lava formation. For years the territorial government has received only $1,200 a year from this vast tract, while the corporation leasing it waxed exceedingly wealthy.

Tams Bixby, who has been for years the commissioner of the Five Civilized Tribes, and who is known as the Great White Chief of the Indian Territory, has at last succeeded in resigning his job and will definitely wind up his connection with the Indian service today. He will be succeeded by Indian Inspector J. George Wright, who will assume the reins of his office Monday. Mr. Wright is a Chicagoan, but has been in the Indian service since 1883 and has a wide knowledge of the redskin and his ways. His salary is doubled by the appointment from $2,500 to $5,000 a year.

Mr. Bixby, the retired commissioner, has tendered his resignation three times previously, but on each occasion has been persuaded by the secretary of the interior to retain the position. He is a newspaper man by profession and a former citizen of Minnesota. It is stated that he has secured the control of the St. Paul Pioneer Press, the most influential journal of the Minnesota capital, and will take possession next week.

Beginning Monday the head tax of all aliens entering the United States will be increased from $2 to $4, thus doubling the revenue of the immigrant department from this source. The head tax law has been operative about three years, but there are still many aliens in the country who do not know of its existence. According to the terms of the act, ever person not a citizen of the United States, Canada or Mexico must pay a tax of $4 on crossing the boundary into this country. Regardless of the time a man has lived in the United States, he must pay the tax on his return from a trip into another country, provided, of course, he has not been naturalized. Hundreds of aliens who have made temporary excursions to Canadian or Mexican points have been forced by the immigration officials to pay this tax on their return, much to their indignation and surprise.

By means of an appropriation of $650,000, made by the last congress, pure food laboratories or bureaus, each with a large staff of inspectors and chemists, will be established in various sections of the country during the next few weeks. The appropriation becomes available at the beginning of the fiscal year Monday and final preparation have already been made for inaugurating most of the stations. Pure food stations are already in operation in New York and Chicago and have accomplished much good in preventing the sale of adulterated and falsely-labeled food-stuffs.

The uniform system of accounts which must be followed by all railroads, by order of the interstate commerce commission, goes into effect Monday, and hereafter monthly reports must be filed by all roads. The system is a highly ingenious one and was prepared by Henry C. Adams, statistician for the commission, who devoted many months in perfecting it.

Four of the accounts are issued under the general heads of operating revenues, operating expenses, expenditures for road and equipment and locomotive, car and train miles.

Formal depreciation charges are set up in operating expenses for all classes of equipment. The object of these depreciation charges is so that the fact, that the part of a particular month, or a particular year, shall be assigned to the earnings of that month or year, and thus enable a correct statement of net revenue from operations. The definition of betterments and additions will also result in keeping the cost of performing current business.

A useful feature of the classification for operating expenses is that the expense of advertising and soliciting traffic is kept separate from the cost of hauling and handling the traffic.

The accounts of construction work are so kept that when a physical valuation is made of railway property the additions and betterments from year to year can be added to such valuation, thus keeping a current record of the physical value of railway property.

The accounts of revenues are so drawn as to enable the examiners of the commission to easily check the amounts stated as earnings, in order that there should be excluded from earnings all improper payments of all sorts.

All of these classifications have been worked out with the assistance and co-operation of many railway accounting officers, and no question has been finally decided by the commission without first soliciting the opinions and suggestions of all important railway companies.

Under the provision of the new postoffice law, which goes into effect Monday, a general advance will be made in the salaries of postoffice clerks, carriers, rural carriers and railway mail clerks. Every clerk and carrier who has been in the service a year will receive an advance of $100, except the $400 men, who will get $600, and the $600 employees, who will be jumped to $800. In the future there will be an annual increase of $100 for every man who has been in a certain grade for a year and has a satisfactory efficiency record up to $1,200. The previous limit has been $1,000.

The total number of clerks to be promoted Monday, or as soon thereafter as they have completed a year's service in the grades in which they are now serving, is 19,900. Of these 358 will be advanced from a salary of $400 to $600; $32 from $500 to $600; 3,844 from $600 to $800; 4,026 from $700 to $800; 4,995 from $800 to $900; 3,473 from $900 to $1,000; 2,381 from $1,000 to $1,100.

The letter carriers, many of whom are now receiving the maximum salary, will be promoted in the same way. Carriers to the number of 24,227 will be affected. Of this number 1,819 will be raised from $600 to $800; 8,825 from $850 to $900; 1,073 from $900 to $1,000; 12,500 from $1,000 to $1,100.

The aggregate increase to letter carriers and clerks will be in the neighborhood of $4,500,000.

Rural delivery carriers will also share in the general advance, the new schedule providing a graded increase in compensation from 9 to 25 per cent, based on the number of miles traveled. The readjustment, with an increase of $6,000,000, will involve an aggregate expenditure for rural service during the next fiscal year of about $35,000,000. The schedule is as follows: Routes of 24 or more miles, $900; 22 to 24, $864; 20 to 22, $810; 18 to 20, $720; 16 to 18, $620; 14 to 16, $540; 12 to 14, $504; 10 to 12, $468; 8 to 10, $432; 6 to 8, $396.

Every regularly employed mail clerk will receive an increase of $100 a year after Monday. There will be absolutely no discrimination, as every clerk, regardless of present salary, will get the $100 monthly advance. Every man gets a slice of the melon and every slice is of the same size. Over 15,000 men who risk their lives in the flimsy mail cars will be affected by the advance. It makes their range from $1,600 to $1,800; chief clerks in railway mail service from $1,600 to $1,800; assistant superintendents $1,800 to $2,000, and assistant division superintendents, $2,000. The weighing of mails, looking to a readjustment of rates paid the railroads for carriage, will begin Monday and continue for six months.

WANTS A FAIR TEST

Attorney General Hadley Asks Railroads to Cancel State Passes.

Kansas City, June 29.—Attorney General Hadley has requested all railroads in Missouri to cancel the thousands of state passes now in the hands of persons other than railroad employees, so that the three months' test of the two-cent law recently ordered by Federal Judge McPherson may be a fair one.

General Hadley says if these passes continue in force no true estimate of the workings of the law can be made.

DISCONTINUES THE BIOGRAPHY

McClure's Refuse to Continue Publication of Ellen Terry's History.

New York, June 29.—Announcement was made today that the much-advertised Ellen Terry autobiography, of which installments appeared in the June and July numbers of McClure's Magazine, has been discontinued on the ground that a great amount of the matter appearing in the autobiography was contributed by Miss Terry in exactly the same words to the New Review, an English monthly, in 1891.

There were to have been seven installments, aggregating 75,000 words, in McClure's. Ellery Sedgwick, managing editor of McClure's Magazine, in making the announcement, said: "We had received three installments of the work before we made the discovery. We had put two installments in type and had had cuts made. These could not be stopped. We were getting ready the third installment, which was to be accompanied by many illustrations. After some debate, we decided that we could not afford to give a lot of dead matter to our readers."

Miss Terry's agent, A. P. Watt, of London, has been notified, it is stated, regarding the decision of McClure's.

NEBRASKA SHERIFF SHOT

Went to Arrest Forger Who Was Being Harbored by Relative

Tecumseh, Neb., June 29.—Sheriff H. V. Miner was shot yesterday evening at the farm of Sam Kramer, where he had gone to arrest a man supposed to be Simon Hudson, a relative of Kramer's who had passed several forged checks.

Sheriff Miner and Elmer Nelson, hearing that Hudson was at the home of Kramer, seven miles west of Tecumseh, went out to get him.

When they drove into the yard Kramer denied the presence there of

MISSOURI PACIFIC HAS BROKEN ALL OF ITS PREVIOUS RECORDS.

EARNINGS HAVE BEEN ENORMOUS

Sufficiently So, It is Hoped, to Enable Mr. Gould to Put Some of the Branch Lines in a Better Condition.

St. Louis, Mo., June 29.—The Missouri Pacific and Iron Mountain system reports that, for the fiscal year ending on June 30, it will show the best record for earnings and improvements in its history. The gross and net earnings will attain higher totals than ever before, notwithstanding large increases in wages and heavy expenditures, aggregating $3,000,000 or more, for general betterment.

Advance statements, estimating the earnings and expenses of the present month, indicate that the gross earnings will amount to about $18,500,000, and the net earnings to about $16,500,000. The company will show an increase of about $2,200,000 in the net earnings. There will be shown a reduction of approximately 1 per cent in the ratio of operating expenses to gross earnings.

The management received an appropriation this year of $3,500,000 for improvements. This amount has been covered by work finished and contracts made, but, as yet, unfulfilled. That portion of the appropriation which may be left out of this year's expenditures, on account of delay in the delivery of material by contractors, will be carried over into next year's budget.

The system's payroll aggregates about $20,000,000 per year. Increases in wages, which have been in effect since April 1, average $85,000 per month. The wage increase will average, during the year beginning on July 1, about 10 per cent, or $2,000,000. The increase in wages for the present fiscal year will swell the expenditures of the record year, ending tomorrow.

Most of the $3,500,000 which was appropriated for improvements this year has been devoted to enlarging terminal facilities at all the principal centers of the system's lines and for improving the track and roadbed in the different states traversed. The work done during the present fiscal year is believed to have put the system in the best condition that it has ever been in.

The company has outlined plans, as was stated several weeks ago, for extensive reconstruction work. Grades and curves will be eliminated. Terminal facilities will be enlarged. Double track will be laid in divisions where traffic converges. New track will be laid and the roadbed improved wherever necessary. In general, the work will be of a reconstructive character.

According to conclusions reached by the management, as much as $10,000,000 per year will be expended during the next ten years on reconstruction work. The financial arrangements for the improvements will probably be adjusted as soon as President George Gould returns from Europe.

The results which the new management has realized are demonstrated by the improvement work and the increase in earnings. The net earnings for this year will be about $2,200,000 more than last year and about $3,500,000 larger than for 1904-5.

DISGRACE TO THE COMPANY

Situation at the Missouri Pacific Depot Saturday.

The platform at the Missouri Pacific railway station Saturday noon was in a most deplorable condition. Torrents of water, followed by more water, covered the Lexington branch tracks, the main line and almost reached the posts supporting the station roof.

Passengers from train No. 2 with difficulty waded the streams, for such they might be called, and women and children experienced difficulty in reaching the waiting room from the train.

Passengers for the train were compelled to undergo the same treatment, while a few favored ladies were picked up and carried so as not to run any risk of being drowned.

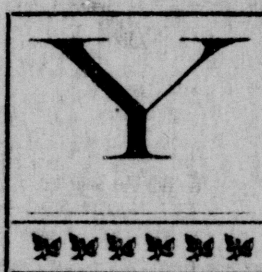

Supt. Alexander would make himself popular if he could devise a way of abating the miserable nuisance.

Mrs. Waddell Is at Maywood.

Mrs. Richard Waddell, who was removed to Maywood hospital Friday, was reported somewhat improved Saturday afternoon.

GIRL ATTACKS THE MAN

Waitress Creates Scene in Court by Jumping at Assailant.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 29.—Helen Schreiner, a waitress, created a sensation in the central police court by jumping at the throat of Norman Claire, an ex-English and American naval man, whom she accuses of mistreating her while in a woods near the Angora trolley line terminus.

The young woman, according to her appearance and her story, had a terrible experience, both eyes being discolored from the treatment she alleges she received while defending herself.

She formed Claire's acquaintance on the evening prior to the occurrence when he had lunch at the restaurant where she was employed. The next evening Claire met her near the restaurant, and they boarded a car, riding to the wood.

Claire was committed without bail. An examination of his effects at the city hall showed him to have been a graduate of several leading universities in Europe. He acted as interpreter in the naval intelligence department of the royal British navy. During the Spanish-American war he enlisted and served in the navy of the United States.

DELIGHTFUL LAWN FETE

WAS GIVEN BY THE LADIES OF THE LOCAL CHAUTAUQUA CIRCLE.

AT HOME OF MISS ESTHER DUNKIN

There Were Swings, Hammocks and Cozy Chairs, Then a Guessing Contest, and One and All Enjoyed Themselves.

One of the most pleasant events of the season was the lawn fete given to the Chautauqua circle and their guests on last Thursday afternoon at the suburban home of Miss Esther Dunkin by Mesdames W. W. Hoffman, Esther Beeler, J. T. Loveland, E. R. Harris, J. F. Nelson and Miss Dunkin.

Swings, hammocks and easy chairs were in profusion about the lawn, and bouquets of wild flowers adorned the various tables, from one of which frappe was served.

The game of the afternoon was a "black cat" puzzle, prepared by Mrs. Nelson. Each answer contained the word "cat." At the conclusion of the game three ladies tied for first prize, and Mrs. J. N. Allen, of Muskogee, became winner of a copy of a "Caf Book," and Miss Allen, of Mexico, was given the booby prize, a felt black cat.

The following delicious menu was then served: Pressed chicken, potato chips, peas in timbals, pickled beets, nutted cheese balls on lettuce, sandwiches and olives, ice cream, home made cake, coffee.

Following the repast a short program was rendered by Miss Grace Lewis, elocutionist, and Miss Grace Johnson, pianist.

Four new members were added to next year's roll of membership. At 6 o'clock the merry party departed, after having a most delightful outing.

Gave a Delightful Dance.

Mrs. W. H. Powell entertained a number of friends at a delightful dance at the Sedalia Printing company hall Saturday night in honor of her son, William Powell, jr., and Miss Louise Maltby, of Kansas City.

Wolf in Italian Town.

It is not often that European eyes witness the spectacle of a wolf trotting leisurely through the streets in broad daylight, and with little apparent concern. Such an incident happened recently in the Italian town of Anzezano. The wolf went sniffling first in the direction of one house and then of another as he went along. Passing by the hospital, an attendant of sporting instincts saw the game, and, rushing for a gun, gave chase. Before long he got a chance for a shot, which hit the wolf, and, following this up with another, the beast was slain. Its presence in the town is accounted for by the theory that the beast had been hunting over night away from his haunts, and after eating to satiety and sleeping through the night, was making his way back to his lair.

Lightning struck a live wire in the rear of Claude Wilcox's home, on Wilkerson street, at the noon hour Saturday, completely cutting the wire in two.

MARRIAGE WAS A FAILURE

That of Joseph Bradbury and Dora Savage, Solemnized June 13.

On June 24, Attorney W. D. Steele filed in the Pettis county circuit court a suit for divorce, the plaintiff being Joseph Bradbury against Dora Savage Bradbury, alleging that on June 13, 1907, plaintiff and defendant were married in this county, and immediately after their marriage the defendant refused to accompany him to his home near Beaman, where, prior to the marriage, she had agreed to live with him as his wife.

Plaintiff also states in the petition that before the marriage the defendant induced him to execute a warranty deed to her for a certain portion of his farm in this county, which deed was filed for record, and the court is asked to declare the document void.

School Fund Benefits

"TOM" HURLEY RESIGNS

Will Engage in Real Estate Business With His Brother.

Thomas Hurley, for over three years employed at the City Water company's office, under L. P. Andrews, and for over a year past holding the responsible position of cashier for the company, tendered his resignation Saturday, effective on July 4. His successor is unnamed.

Tom's resignation is due to the fact that he intends to engage in the real estate business with his brother, Edward Hurley.

Mr. Hurley is one of the city's promising, energetic and hustling young men, and the Democrat-Sentinel feels confident that he will attain splendid success in his new undertaking.

Rev. J. F. Caskey Preached.

Rev. J. F. Caskey, than whom the Buncheon Methodist church never had a more popular pastor, occupied his old pulpit Wednesday night, and at Bell Air last night, being greeted by large and appreciative audiences at both places, says the Buncheon Eagle. Rev. Caskey is giving ten days of his time to the interests of Central college at Fayette. He is now located at Sedalia, where he is doing good work.

Bitten by a Bull Dog.

Willis Nutt, who lives with J. H. Morrison, was quite badly bitten Thursday while attempting to separate a bull dog and a shepherd dog, which were fighting, says the Houstonian. He attempted to pull the bull dog off, when it turned on him, biting him severely on the arm and leg.

REGARDING RAILROADS

MISSOURI PACIFIC TRAFFIC CERTAINLY IMPERILED BY ITS BAD RAILS.

COACH, CAB AND CABOOSE ITEMS

Matters of Interest Picked Up From Various Sources for the Benefit of Democrat-Sentinel Readers.

Railroad Commissioner Charles A. Ryker, of Hutchinson, Kan., walked over the Missouri Pacific tracks between Hutchinson and Yaggy, the first station west of Hutchinson.

In one mile of track, between mile posts Nos. 48 and 49, a total of 807 rotten, broken and weakened ties were found in the track. In one rail's length there were nine bad ties out of seventeen, and hundreds of spikes could be pulled out on a mile of track.

Commissioner Ryker walked over some of the Missouri Pacific tracks near Anthony, on the Kiowa division, and found conditions even worse than on the Hutchinson division, there being from two to three ties out of five which were in bad condition.

Mr. Ryker says the condition of the roadbed both on the Hutchinson and the Kiowa divisions is unsafe for a heavy tonnage or for the rapid movement of trains.

New Engines for the Katy.

The first fifteen locomotives of thirty-two made for the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railway by the American Locomotive works of Schenectady, N. Y., have arrived at Parsons, Kan. The remaining seventeen will arrive in October.

A majority of the new locomotives will go to the lines of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas in Texas.

Boilermakers Meet Tonight.

The Missouri Pacific boilermakers on a strike at the local shops held a meeting at Tiller's hall at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and will hold another meeting at the same place tonight.

The details were not given out for publication. Vice President Franklin is still here conferring with the men.

The grievance committee of the Boilermakers' union on the Missouri Pacific, held a conference at the Antlers hotel Saturday night.

Will Run Special Train.

On account of the Drummers' convention at Moberly and the Fourth of July celebration at Fayette, the Katy will run a special train to those two places on July 4, the train to leave here at 7:10 a. m. Returning, the train will leave Moberly at 11:30 p. m.

Leaves for His New Work.

Amiel Clark, night ticket agent for the Katy, leaves today for Parsons, where, tomorrow, he enters upon his new duties as assistant ticket agent for the Katy.

Munson Goodyear will assume the duties of night agent here.

Short on Motive Power.

About 3,200 cars of machinery and mining apparatus for Mexico are reported en route between San Antonio and El Paso, the bulk of it on sidings because of the lack of motive power on the Southern Pacific.

Nothing New in the Strike.

Nothing new developed in the strike of the Missouri Pacific boilermakers, apprentices and helpers at the shops here Saturday. The men are still out, with slim prospects of a settlement.

Automatic Couplers.

Edward Jacobs, a former Katy switchman, has accepted a position as brakeman for the company in this city.

Inspector of Bridges W. F. Hausgen for the Missouri Pacific, returned Saturday from a business visit at Myrick.

Engineer T. J. Gallivan, of the Missouri Pacific, returned to Kansas City Saturday morning, after visiting his family here.

Trainmen arriving here from Kansas City Junction Saturday reported a very heavy fall of hail at points along the line.

Ron McDougall, night operator for the Missouri Pacific at Boonville, arrived Friday evening to visit home folks for several days.

Frank Murphy, a Katy machinist of Parsons, Kan., who has been here for several days with an injured finger, will return to work tonight.

S. M. Dolan, former master mechanic for the Missouri Pacific, arrived here Saturday for a few days' visit.

H. C. Reeder, a Missouri Pacific civil engineer, came down from Independence on the noon train Saturday to visit friends over today.

George James, formerly of this city, now working at his trade as a machinist at Denison, Texas, arrived Saturday morning to visit friends.

G. E. Walker, a Missouri Pacific machinist, left on the noon train Saturday for his home in St. Louis to visit relatives until after July 4.

Traveling Freight Agent J. P. Rodeman, of the Missouri Pacific, passed through here on train No. 1 Saturday, en route to Kansas City.

Superintendent A. J. Alexander, of the Missouri Pacific, and Trainmaster W. E. Merrifield returned Friday night from a business visit in Kansas City.

G. W. Anderson, chairman of the grievance committee of the B. of R. T. on the Missouri Pacific, left Saturday morning for Pueblo, Col., on business.

John M. Scott, chief clerk to Superintendent N. J. Finney, of the Katy, accompanied by his father, John M. Sr., of Upperville, Va., arrived Saturday night from St. Louis.

The Katy will run an excursion train from Sedalia to Hannibal this morning, the train to leave here at 6:40 a. m. From Hannibal the excursionists will go to Quincy by boat.

Stewart Scott, clerk for Roadmaster T. J. Warren, of the Katy, will tender his resignation soon and about July 15 he expects to leave for White Sulphur Springs, Mont., to remain.

Inspector Anderson of the passenger service of the Missouri Pacific, passed through here on train No. 8 last afternoon, en route home to St. Louis from a business visit at Kansas City.

Bert Steger, of Sedalia, who is with the M. K. and T. bridge and construction gang, came to Buncheon, his old home, for a visit of a few days the latter part of last week.—Buncheon Eagle.

Lineman J. J. Tryling, of the Katy, went to Clinton Saturday.

Commercial Agent J. W. Conner, of the Katy, went to Nevada Saturday. George Britten, division lineman for the Missouri Pacific, returned Saturday from Tipton.

Claim Agent W. L. McCutcheon, of the Missouri Pacific, went to Jefferson City Saturday.

Superintendent N. J. Finney, of the Katy, and wife, will return this afternoon from Leavenworth, Kan.

E. P. Twyman, Katy roadmaster's clerk at Nevada, will arrive today to assist in making out the pay roll.

Virgil Berry, a railroad brakeman, who has been visiting at Cincinnati, O., returned home Saturday morning.

Missouri Pacific engine No. 2365 was turned out of the local shops Saturday, after undergoing repairs.

SAYS ORCHARD WASN'T THERE

A Witness Testifies He Couldn't Have Blown Up Two Mines.

Boise, Idaho, June 29.—The defense in the Steunenberg murder trial began this morning with a further attack on the testimony of Harry Orchard, and then presented testimony to show that Jack Simpkins was cruelly treated in the Idaho "bull pen" and that union miners were whipped and driven from Cripple Creek.

Dominick Flynn, who conducted a cigar store in Mullen, Idaho, in 1899, swore that Orchard was in his store playing a poker game at the time the Bunker Hill and Sullivan mill was blown up and Pat McHale, who gave the occupation of barkeeper and said he gambled whenever he got a chance, swore that he sat in the game with Orchard.

Frank Hough, who testified to conditions in the Idaho "bull pen," and the treatment of Jack Simpkins, swore that Orchard told him at Wallace in the fall of 1905 that he had just come from Alaska, the first mentioned case of the defense of the supposed visit of Orchard to Alaska.

Morris Friedman, a former employee of the Pinkerton detective agency, who recently left the service and published a so-called expose of the Pinkerton methods, was called to the stand shortly before noon.

GOOD BOY'S PROMOTION

WALTER SLAGLE, WHO GOES TO OKLAHOMA CITY FOR THE M. K. & T.

HAS BEEN WITH COMPANY 8 YEARS

Began as a Messenger in Sedalia, Then Worked as a Painter and a Helper, Finally Becoming Ticket Agent.

A popular Sedalia boy, a son of W. M. Slagle, of the M. K. & T. shops, is written of as follows in the Muskogee, I. T., Times:

Ticket Agent Walter Slagle, of the M. K. & T., will on July 1st assume the duties of city passenger agent of the Katy at Oklahoma City.

Assistant Agent W. H. Pritchett of the local office will assume the duties of passenger agent here in the place of Mr. Slagle.

The above bit of news will be very surprising and pleasing to the numerous friends of both men, but the surprise of their friends will be scarcely less than that of Mr. Slagle and Mr. Pritchett when they received the letters from General Passenger Agent W. S. St. George, telling of their promotions.

Mr. Slagle has been with the M. K. & T. for eight years, commencing his services with them in the capacity of messenger boy.

After several months in this work, he painted box cars for a couple of years in the company's shops, and was also a helper around the depot at St. Charles, Mo.

His rise to the position of night agent at Sedalia was steady, and for fifteen months he held that position, coming here September 1, 1904, as assistant ticket clerk under former Station Agent Holmes.

In June, 1905, the company decided to separate the passenger and freight departments, and Mr. Slagle was made passenger agent. This position he has held until the present time.

Mr. Slagle has proven one of the most popular railroad men in the city, and through his courteousness and accommodating manner has gained for the company an increase in passenger business.

Mr. Slagle's friends will all regret that he is leaving Muskogee, but will rejoice in the fact that he goes one step higher, and into a more important position, from the fact that Oklahoma City is a competitive point.

LOST BOTH FEET

Dave Lancaster Horribly Mangled in Accident at Sterrett, I. T.

Dave Lancaster, about 25 years of age, whose parents live about ten miles from Wagoner, I. T., was brought in yesterday afternoon at 4:20 o'clock on the Katy flyer from Sterrett, I. T., in a horribly mangled condition, the result of an accident which happened about noon, says the Denison Herald.

Lancaster was in the employ of the Patton & Gibson Construction company, the firm that is doing the reconstruction work for the Katy from the Red river north to Atoka.

While attempting to step from a platform to a moving train of ballast cars loaded with dirt, he missed his footing and was thrown beneath the train.

Both of his legs were severed below the knees, his right arm was badly crushed, and he was otherwise bruised and scratched.

On arrival here he was taken to the local Katy hospital, where the injured limbs were amputated. After the operation the patient was removed to St. Vincent's sanitarium in Sherman. The physician who performed the operation believes the man has a chance to recover.

Arranging for a Picnic.

At the meeting of Fidelity council No. 53, Knights and Ladies of Security, in the Royal Tribe of Joseph hall, Friday night, three applications were received and Mrs. Harry Nofsker and Miss May Nofsker were initiated. A committee was appointed to arrange for a picnic in the near future, to report arrangements made next Friday night.

Entertained for Daughter.

Mrs. W. E. Hurlbut entertained about sixteen guests at her home, 917 South Grand avenue, Saturday afternoon from 2 to 5 o'clock, in honor of her youngest child, Helen, who celebrated her ninth birthday yesterday. Games were played and a Jack Horner pie was cut, after which ice cream and cake were served.

GIRL TO MARRY A TITLE

MISS ITALIA BLAIR, OF CHICAGO, THE POSSIBLY FORTUNATE PERSON.

SENATOR BEVERIDGE IS TO WED

Automobilists From All the European Countries Are Assembling for the Great Race to Be Run Tuesday.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Paris, June 29.—Another American girl is to marry a title. Miss Italia Blair, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey J. Blair, of Chicago, is the fortunate—or otherwise—young woman, and tomorrow will become the bride of Marquis de Ricardo Sofiano de Ivanrey, a Spanish nobleman. The ceremony will be performed in the Spanish chapel in Paris, and after a brief tour the marquis and his bride will take up their residence in Madrid.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of the Marquis de Ivanrey, one of the hereditary senators of Spain, and is the owner of a handsome palace in the Spanish capital. Miss Blair has a considerable fortune in her own right. She made her debut in Chicago society three years ago and many of her relatives and close friends are here from that city for the wedding.

American friends of Senator Albert J. Beveridge, of Indiana, who arrived in Paris this week to join his fiancée, Miss Katherine Eddy, of Chicago, and her mother, are responsible for the statement that the famous statesman will be married within the next two weeks. According to reports, the wedding will be a quiet one and will take place in London, as the red tape of the French laws make it extremely difficult for Americans to be married in this country.

Miss Eddy is well known in Europe, having for the last five years made frequent and extended visits to the continent to see her mother, Sponsor Eddy, of the American diplomatic service. She has been presented at court both in London and Berlin, and has enjoyed great social advantages in nearly all European capitals. She is possessed of a comfortable fortune and is expected to be one of the heirs of her aunt, Mrs. Marshall Field, of Chicago.

Senator Beveridge is a widower, 45 years of age, his first wife having been Miss Katherine Langdale, of Indiana. She died seven years ago, shortly after her husband's election to the United States senate.

Automobile enthusiasts from all European countries, with a considerable sprinkling of Americans, are gathering in Paris a day in advance of the grand prix, which will be run next Tuesday. For a time the outlook for the world's greatest motor car event was very serious, and French automobilists feared that this year's contest would be a failure. If the widespread interest and enthusiasm aroused by the coming race is any criterion, these dire predictions will fall of fulfillment. The French makers are now a unit in supporting the grand prix, and it now appears certain to be a great success.

Because the big event does not fill all the requirements necessary for the development of the practical type of touring car, the club has decided to hold another race, which has been termed the Grand Prix de la Commission Sportive, and which will be run on Monday. The regulations resemble closely those of the grand prix itself, the principal limitation being fuel consumption. This is placed at fifteen centres per 100 kilometers, or about 18.8 miles to the gallon. The distance to be covered is 500 kilometers, about 310.5 miles.

A Blow on a Train.

O. H. Cramer and wife were passengers to Sedalia Sunday, says the Bunceton Eagle. Ott returned home Monday morning, but his wife remained for a longer visit with relatives. On the train on which he returned home some "discord" arose between a piano tuner and a traveling salesman, resulting in the salesman getting a blow, which if not extremely "Painful" resulted in the loss of his hat. The man purchased a new hat when he got to Bunceton.

COL. DEMUTH A GRANGER

Will Come to Town This Week With Wagonload of Blackberries.

Col. H. C. Demuth, who recently purchased the Col. Van B. Wisker tract of 40 acres of land southeast of the city for $8,000, will this week remove his family to his new home, and henceforth and forever will be a "granger," and with the grangers stand.

"I have had scores of people after me to sell second-hand wagons for a song, horses and cows the like of which I had never seen at my own figure, and so on down the line, but there is no need of being in a hurry, so I shall take my time in stocking the ranch," said Col. Demuth Saturday.

"I shall make my debut as a granger early this week, when I will drive into town with a wagonload of blackberries."

Sold 150 Binders This Season.

H. G. Bowman, of the National Harvester company, gives the number of binders sold in the county at 150 during the season.

A. W. Chatham, at Lamonte, has sold sixteen McCormick binders, the largest number sold by any one firm in the county.

National Commander Army and Navy Union

Says: "I Have No Hesitation In Endorsing Peruna As An Efficient Remedy For Catarrh."

J. EDWIN BROWNE.

J. Edwin Browne, National Commander Army and Navy Union of U. S. A., 410 11th street, N. E., Washington, D. C., writes:

"I have no hesitation in endorsing your Peruna as a most efficient cure for catarrh. My own experience and that of many friends who have been benefited by its use recommend it to all persons suffering from that complaint."

Says Peruna Saved His Life.

"Peruna has cured me of catarrh. I can work all day, eat hearty, sleep well, and my digestion is all right. I was not able to do a day's work last year. I candidly feel that using your medicine was the means of saving my life. I find it is just what it is recommended to be, and I speak in highest praise of Peruna. I shall recommend it to all my friends."—Alvis A. Nelson, Virgilina, Va.

When any one has catarrh of the head or throat they know it. Snuffing, sneezing, coughing, spitting, gagging, choking—these are some of the symptoms.

When any one has catarrh of the bronchial tubes they are not quite so apt to recognize their trouble as catarrh, although there are a great many people who begin to appreciate the fact that catarrh of the bronchial tubes is sure to create a cough.

Catarrh produces symptoms according to the place in the body where the catarrh is located. Catarrh deranges the function of any organ.

If the catarrh be in the stomach it produces dyspepsia.

If in the lungs it is apt to set up consumption.

If located in the kidneys or bladder it produces urinary disorders.

If in the bowels it deranges the bowels. Catarrh medicine, in order to be effective, should be an internal remedy, and not a local application.

Peruna has maintained its reputation for many years as an internal catarrh remedy. It operates throughout the whole system. It benefits catarrh of the pelvic organs the same as catarrh of the head or throat.

The Family Relies on Peruna.

A. Howitt Nickerson, Capt. U. S. Army, Adjutant General on General McCook's staff, writes from the Census Building, Washington, D. C., as follows: "It affords me great pleasure to recommend Peruna as a most excellent tonic with many medicinal qualities that assist nature in overcoming the various ills with which the human family is often afflicted, and is always a danger."

"As a general thing, I have been exposed to what are known as patent medicines, but Peruna has long since overcome this feeling. It is now, as it has been for a long time, a well established family medicine with us, upon which we rely to give tired nature substantial restoration."

Terrible Case of Indigestion.

Mr. Donald Robb, Jr., 16 Wrights Ave., Halifax, Nova Scotia, Deputy Supreme Chief Ranger, Independent Order of Foresters, writes:

"While on a visit to Boston I must have eaten something that did not agree with my stomach, as a terrible case of indigestion followed. Peruna was recommended to me, and after using three bottles I was entirely cured. I therefore recommend Peruna to any one suffering with stomach trouble."

Every Trace of Catarrh Gone.

Mr. James P. Bracken, 610 Tenth Ave., New York City, N. Y., has occupied the office of Water Inspector of New York City, for the past fifteen years. He carries on an extensive plumbing business at 610 10th Ave. He is Past Deputy of Grand Knights of Regna Celia Council, Knights of Columbus, N. Y. He writes as follows:

"For nearly a dozen years catarrh has bothered me in one form or another. I was troubled with nasal catarrh, that had affected my stomach, which troubled me most in the morning. My appetite was poor, and I did not seem to relish my food. Indigestion bothered me at times also. I was advised to take Peruna, and I took it as prescribed for a month when my cure was almost complete. Today there is not a trace of catarrh in my system, and I can say without hesitation that Peruna cured me."

Agreeable and Effective Tonic.

General John Finn, Washington, D. C., veteran soldier of the civil war, a prominent Grand Army man and commander of the oldest post in the United States, John A. Rawlins Post No. 1, department of the Potomac, Grand Army of the Republic, writes:

"Peruna was recommended to me by many of my associates and I have given it a fair trial. Have found it a most agreeable and effective tonic, pleasant soothing, and leaves one free from the deleterious effects produced by the many nostrums now on the market. I have suffered from catarrh of the bladder the past winter, and have found Peruna most beneficial and commendable for what it has done for me."

Relieves Mind and Body.

Mr. G. W. Woodbury, Rogers, Ohio, formerly Captain and Center of the Hiram College Basketball Team, writes:

"When body and mind alike were weary and refused to work, a few doses of Peruna restored lost strength and invigorated quicker and more permanently than anything I know."

A LETTER FROM LONDON

METROPOLIS IS NOW PLAYING THE PART OF HOST TO AMERICANS.

HIGHER FARES ARE NOW IN ORDER

The Town of Romsey Celebrated One Thousandth Anniversary and the Occasion Will Long Be a Memorable One.

Special to Democrat-Sentinel.

London, June 29.—London is just now playing the part of host to many distinguished Americans, numerous additions to the list having been made at the West Side hotels during the last week. First and foremost is the inimitable Mark Twain, otherwise Dr. Samuel Clemens, at present the pet of social London, from King Edward down. This evening Mr. Clemens will be a guest of honor at the lord mayor's dinner to the Savoy club. Next Wednesday Mr. Moberly Boil gives him a dinner, and he will be one of the guests at the Fourth of July dinner of the American society.

Another famous American arriving in London this week was Senator Chauncey M. Depew, jovial and humorous as ever. The senator is accompanied by Mrs. Depew and will spend about three months in London and Paris, returning to America in September.

Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, is another late arrival. Dr. Butler freely discusses American politics and gives it as his candid opinion that Roosevelt will not consent to be a candidate for a third term. Taft, Hughes and Knox, in the order named, are the most likely to secure the nomination, according to the distinguished educator. Hughes is gaining strength daily, says Dr. Butler, and is almost certain to be Taft's strongest opponent in the race.

According to good authority, the subway, electric and motor bus companies of London will make a general and uniform advance in fares, beginning next Monday. In explanation of the increase, officials of the transportation companies of the metropolis declare that they have been losing money at the rates now prevailing. While the schedule has not been made public, it is stated that all two-pence fares will be increased to three pence. This will work a great hardship upon the poorer and working classes and will likely arouse much determined opposition from the labor unions.

The British workmen's compensation act will go into effect Monday and shows the thoroughness of the legislation secured through the powerful influence of the labor members of parliament. Not only does the new law provide for the payment of indemnity to mechanics and laborers in cases of damage by accident, but domestic servants are also included in the protected classes.

A notable festival was that held at Romsey this week to commemorate the 1000th anniversary of the town's founding. The pageant was among the most brilliant ever seen in England and attracted thousands of visitors from London. In the spirit of the ancient mystery plays of the middle ages the natives of Romsey reproduced scenes of important events occurring in the long history of a thousand years.

The beautiful park of Broadlands, the home of Viscount Palmerston and many other famous statesmen, was the scene of the performance, which served to bring back to the spectator visions of Merrie England as it was in the tenth and succeeding centuries. One of the spectacular scenes reproduced the sacking of Romsey Abbey in 994 by King Sweyn and his piratical Danes. The costumes of the marauders were copied from remnants dug up a century ago in the peat near Romsey and which were doubtless worn by the invading sea wolves a thousand years ago.

Another inspiring scene was that representing the wooing of Good Queen Maude, at that time an inmate of Romsey convent, by Henry Beauclerc. As the lovers plight their vows before the abbey they are startled by the passing of a doleful funeral procession of which it has been written, in words that will last forever: "The rolling blood-stained car and driver grim who points his finger to the lifeless body of the king."

The "rolling blood-stained car" it may be mentioned, was of a type still in use which have come down unchanged from Norman times, and the driver was a direct descendant of the original charcoal burners of the clan of Purkiss, who for 800 years have lived on the same farm where Rufus fell. The ancient road to Winchester, still called King's lane, crossed the river at the very spot where the pageant was held.

Thus, on ground hallowed by the tread of kings, natives of Romsey set forth ancient Saxon and Norman scenes which are familiar to all students of English history. There was depicted the seizure of Romsey abbey by Henry VIII, and the expulsion of the white-cowled nuns and black-robed priests, and the visit of King James I. to Romsey to grant a charter to the town. A fig tree planted by him to commemorate the visit still flourishes and is an object of veneration by the townspeople. Direct descendants of many who took part in historic events played their parts in the pageant, among them Henry St. Barbe, whose ancestor of the same name entertained King James I.

THE TOMB OF ST. PETER

POPE PIUS X. VISITED IT AND RECEIVED SELECT FEW OF THE PILGRIMS.

WHO ARE NOW VISITING IN ROME

The Celebration of St. Peter's Day This Year Is to Be Made Far More Impressive Than Ever Before, 'Tis Said.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Rome, June 28.—Pius X., in accordance with the custom that has obtained among foreign pontiffs of the church for centuries past, today paid a visit to the tomb of St. Peter, where he received a select few of the thousands of pilgrims now flocking to the Eternal City from all parts of the world.

Preparations for the celebration of St. Peter's day, which falls on Sunday, have been made on an elaborate scale. The great basilica dedicated to the saint has been decorated in an unusually magnificent manner. This is by order of Pius, who desires to make the observance this year more impressive than ever. In order to settle the controversies that have recently waged heatedly over the place of martyrdom of the greatest of the apostles. The authenticity of the tomb on the hill has been denied by Catholic scholars, and the pope intends to throw the weight of his influence in its favor.

Since the first of the year the pope's health has steadily improved by reason of the vegetable diet he has adopted on the suggestion of his medical advisers. He is still subject, however, to occasional recurrences of gouty disorders. If his health will allow, the pope will personally officiate at the function in celebration of the feast of St. Peter, which will last several hours.

NO "BOOZE" ON SUNDAY

Lexington Saloon Keepers Agree to Keep on the Lid.

Lexington's fourteen saloons were granted licenses Friday by the Lafayette county court. Before doing so all saloon keepers were brought before the court and the Sunday lid law was laid down to them.

In addition to exacting a promise to faithfully comply with the Sunday liquor law, the court also made each proprietor promise that he would remove all screens and curtains from the interior of his place. A failure to comply means a revocation of license.

POLICE COURT CASES

Negresses Charged With Theft—Case of "Loaning" Clothes.

Ruth Patterson and Dora Bass, negroes, were arrested by the police Friday night for stealing different pieces of wearing apparel from Sedalia merchants. Their case was continued until tomorrow by Judge Graham Saturday.

Walter Goff, a young boy, arrested for stealing a watch and clothing from his roommate, was discharged, the prosecuting witness stating he had loaned the articles to Goff.

C. W. Glover, arrested for drunkenness, was fined $5.

THE BIG TENT MEETING

Will Begin Tonight at Eighteenth and Harrison Streets.

Tonight the tent meeting will begin. From 7 to 8 there will be young people's service, which will be led by Pastor Campbell. His theme will be, "God's Go." Following this, Rev. Zeb Thomas, of Springfield, Mo., will preach.

The tent is located near the corner of Eighteenth and Harrison streets.

POISON FROM SPIDER BITE

The Infant Son of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Edwards Was Bitten.

The infant son of Nathan Edwards, a carpenter residing with his wife at Chestnut street and New York avenue, is dangerously ill at his parents' home, suffering from what the physicians pronounce blood poisoning, caused by the bite of a spider.

Last Thursday the child was operated upon by Drs. Collins, Cole and Staats. For a time its life was despaired of, but Friday night a change for the better occurred, and Saturday the lad was still improved.

A week ago last Friday the parents of the child noticed a swelling at the elbow joint, on the lad's left arm. The swelling increased and became more painful, a physician finally being consulted.

Portions of the flesh began to break open, until the bone in the arm was exposed, but the attending physicians predict that the child will recover.

Dr. Taylor Leaves Houstonia.

Dr. W. E. Taylor, who came here from Green Ridge last February, has purchased property at Owsley, Mo., and left Thursday for that place, where he will follow his profession, says the Houstonia Spectator. Dr. Taylor is a polished and refined gentleman, and during his stay here made many friends, who will regret to learn of his departure, but will join us in wishing him unbounded success.

BRIDE'S PINK UNION SUIT

Judge Must Decide Whether Garment Is a Wedding Present.

Chicago, June 29.—An "irresistible" union suit, form-fitting and perfect in workmanship, priced at $35, but sold as special favor to Mrs. Marie Haseltine, 205 East Forty-sixth street, wife of Dr. Burton Haseltine, for $25, has kicked up a sensation in Kenwood society circles.

Wedding present or not? That was the question.

Judge Thomas B. Lantry, of the municipal court, decided that "it" was not a wedding present. Attorney Albert Schaffner is endeavoring to collect $25, the cut price thereof. When the alleged wedding present was shown in court Judge Langtry appeared nervous.

Mrs. Schaffner, attorney for the Mme. Kugel Irresistible Garment Co., 2291 Broadway, New York, the plaintiff explained that it was a "suit of china silk woman's undergarments," with petticoat all on suit.

Mrs. Haseltine said her former friend, Miss Mabel Kugel, whose brother, Albert, is head of the garment concern, gave her the undergarments as a wedding present. The latter contended that they were sold to Mrs. Haseltine in August, 1905, when her name was Mrs. Marie Parshall. Now Attorney Schaffner is unable to collect judgment because the wife of the physician claims under oath she is exempt on legal grounds.

CHAPTER ON FASHIONS

ARTISTIC AND BEAUTIFUL EFFECTS IN COSTUMES FOR DRESSY WEAR.

TRIMMING FOR THE SILK FROCK

Linen This Season Are More Varied and Beautiful in Coloring Than in Any Season for Many Years Past.

Special to Democrat-Sentinel.

New York, June 29.—The range of artistic and beautiful effects in costumes for dressy wear continues to widen with each succeeding day. While there are many new and novel details the general idea remains much the same as we have seen it since the first appearance of the new importations. The Japanese tendency is everywhere and the jumper appears in new and attractive variations which but serve to add to its popularity. The three-piece suit idea is very strong in these later models. It is a mode that has solved many puzzling dress problems this season. First it is a dressy house frock, that is, if one wishes to make their street frock a house gown, too; a very bad thing to do; and with the addition of the little coat it becomes a fetching street gown for afternoon and informal evening wear. Occasionally the effect is varied by the substitution of a dainty lingerie or net blouse for the costume bodice.

The coats of these suits are really their most charming feature. Being that part on which nearly all the elaboration is lavished, the garments are unusually elaborate, while the skirts are very plain and the bodice smart but simple. No frills and fur-bellows on the waist are permissible to spoil the fit of the coat. In some modes the bodice is made of chiffon or net in self color and trimmed with the dress material.

Cloth as a trimming for silk frocks was seen three seasons ago in several imported models, but it found no extensive use until this spring, when the idea was taken up both here and abroad, and the two materials blended so satisfactorily that the old objection on the ground that the costume or frock of two materials has the appearance of a made-over has almost been lost sight of in admiration of these new effects. Some times the cloth forms more than half the skirt, yet it is used in such a way as to give the effect of trimming. Then, again, it is seen only in the tiny pipings on bands of the silk trimming, both skirt and coatette. Cloth covered buttons of various sizes are likewise among these newest features.

With the revival of modes and fancies of other days come the polka dot, varying in size from a ten-cent piece to the silver dollar. As a matter of fact, it is these larger dots that are the most fashionable. The polka dot is seen at its best in the new foulards, showing a finely striped background, the darker tone stripe completing the dot. In some of these foulards the dots form a border above a three-inch stripe in the color of the dot.

These bordered silks come in the wider widths and are, of course, classed among the higher-priced weaves. Charming effects are possible with these dotted fabrics, and especially the bordered patterns, the border being used as a trimming.

Dyed laces are noticeably strong in the trimming world this spring. Costumes and wraps of soft lustrous silks, shimmery satins, and poplins find their most fascinating trimming in laces that match the material in either tone or color. The dead finish of the lace and the luster of the material contrast beautifully in a monotonous garment.

Cream and deep butter color laces are also used in combination with pure white laces and nets. This is no doubt the outgrowth of the gold braid and button fad, the deeper gold lace serving to complete the gold trimmings. This is well shown in one costume of white net guilpe trimmed with narrow edging and entire deax of Valenciennes in pure white, cream and butter color.

The shirt waist frocks in forms having little suggestion of the original "shirt waist" idea are as popular as ever and are usually made of fine linen or lawn trimmed with Valenciennes insertion and frills of lace, and often elaborately embroidered with hand work.

The lincns this season are more varied and beautiful in coloring than ever. Browns, from the dark tobacco shades to the light bright tones are much in evidence. The khaki and natural tones, deep ecru, straw colors and string color, are favorite linen tones, and a creamy unbleached linen of fine quality is exceedingly smart. The gray lincns are well liked. There are many lovely shades in blue, green lavender and rose lincns. Many of the finer lincns are of double width. Linen robes beautifully hand embroidered are on exhibition in all the stores and there are, too, embroidered bordered lincns. This border is most generally worked out in fine soutache, with French knots and occasional hand stitches scattered throughout the design, and the result is exceedingly attractive. Linen laces to match the material are used upon some of the new linen frocks and coats, and much dyed lace in Cluny file or antiques forms most successful trimming, such as Valenciennes or a fine batiste, embroidery being necessary, however, near the face and in the inevitable under-sleeves.

Some heavy frocks of linen are made without trimming except the buttons or some heavy cord trimmings and a chemisette and sleeve of Valenciennes.

Cotton voiles, cotton chevots, cotton suitings, cotton and silk materials in every weight, from firm to gossamer, are shown and fashionable dress makers are making up these high grade cottons with quite as much elaborate detail and costly trimmings as are bestowed upon chiffon voiles of wool or silk. That sheer materials of the voile marquisettes and union class are to have tremendous vogue seems an established fact and a multitude of fancy designs in these materials are in evidence. Stripes are prominent here as in all classes of the new fabrics, but checks and plaids in one or two tone coloring will be very popular.

There are, too, hand embroidered French veillings which command high prices, the embroidery being done in silk or fine soutache and bordered veiling, showing deep border designs of stripes and dots, which echo the coloring of the body of the material. Plain and fancy weaves are alike in demand and the rather fine stripes in white and color, with a tiny rib-line separating the two, are being made up into charming frocks, usually trimmed with taffeta matching the colored stripe.

The day of the plain negligee is past. One must now possess something modish in color, lovely in its artistic suggestions and built of some very smart material. Negligees of voile of the finest stripes in batiste of thin cotton stuffs and of very light weight wool goods are all desirable.

The woman who is buying a nice negligee is safe if she purchases something in lace. This can be worn over different colors and if the ribbons are changed the effect is sure to be good. A net negligee, while it may not sound practical, is entirely pretty enough to be its own excuse for existing. Moreover, it is far more durable than one would suppose, for it washes perfectly. A pretty negligee was designed for a bride, and was of cotton net of washable variety in the empire style, with long floating linens from the shoulders. The front was shirred in so as to give plenty of fullness. A lining of apricot pink, with wheels of the same color, each bordered with lace, extended down the front. In the middle of each wheel was a little pink ornament. Various girdles can be worn with such a gown, and a number of these were provided for the wearer.

Kimono tendencies are observable all through the scheme of dress. There are kimono sleeves in many of the negligees, while the "room coats" are fitted with wide sleeves that fall below the waist line.

In house gowns one does not see the ankle skirt at all, even in the very informal "room dresses." The new room coats and skirts are really very charming and original. They consist of nothing more than a petticoat and dressing sack, but in an elaborate form. A silk petticoat intended for house wear at Newport is built of the softest of pastel pink silk. It is fitted around the hips, but flares widely around the feet, and lies upon the floor in a cascade of

Newbro's Herpicide

WHAT HERPICIDE DOES

Newbro's Herpicide destroys the tiny vegetable growth in the scalp that causes dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair and baldness. Once this microbe enemy of the hair is destroyed and kept out of the scalp, the hair is bound to grow as nature intended, except in cases of chronic baldness.

WHAT SUNLIGHT DOES

Sunlight is nature's germ destroyer and prophylactic. The effect of sunlight upon the scalp proves highly beneficial, if a complete plan of scalp cleanliness is carried out. This cannot be done without the use of Herpicide, which prevents reinfection and keeps the scalp pure and wholesome.

More men and women have gotten positive results from the use of Newbro's Herpicide than from all other hair remedies combined.

HOT WEATHER TROUBLES

The perspiration that exudes in increased quantities during the summer months, carries out poisonous and refuse matter that would otherwise clog up the pores of the scalp.

Incomplete elimination of this waste, produces a hot and feverish condition of the sweat glands known as Prickly Heat for which Herpicide gives immediate relief. Herpicide stops itching of the scalp almost instantly.

Col. Thomp Burton, Member of the Board of Managers of the Ohio Penitentiary, writes as follows of Newbro's Herpicide:

"As to Herpicide I find it an excellent hair dressing as well as being the first and only absolute dandruff cure I have found. Upon my advice a number of my friends are using Herpicide, and the unanimous verdict is, that Herpicide is, in all respects, everything that its manufacturers claim for it."

frounces. The coat is an empire affair, trimmed with lace frills.

Naturally the empire style cannot be attained in the separate waist, but a hint of its influence can be noted in the arrangement of the belt, which gives a short waist appearance at the back and is not so long nor so pointed in front as last year. Perfection of fit in the yoke is demanded and no end of attention is paid to the collar, which is either cut to form a collarless effect so is as high as possible. A touch of black velvet in the collar is one of the favorite fashions, while for more fashionable occasions the wide velvet with the jeweled ornaments in front is considered tremendously smart.

You must use fillet lace and to no small extent in your summer wardrobe, if you would be strictly up to the minute this season. The prettiest and most dressy blouses are made of it in cream and white, and it is not uncommon in colors, completing the touch of the costumes with which the waist is to be worn. A bewildering combination of laces is to be noted in a French model of pure white fillet net, worn over a slip of white sedo silk. The yoke is of point d'esprit, embellished with Irish crochet applique and embroidered motifs and inset with baby Irish and Cluny insertion. The blouse portion is heavily trimmed with the Irish applique, and more crochet for the deep cuffs set between the arm puff and that of d'esprit.

The effects are most fashionable this season, while lace, silk, velvet and embroidered bands all play their part in making the waist more elaborate. Lace insertion is a favorite trimming. Gray lace with silver or steel paillette embroidery is also used.

Dierre lace has come back into favor. It is used with other laces. All the imitation laces are used when appropriate to goods and to the occasion of wearing.

The guimpe and yoke effects are still favored for warm weather.

Bretelles and suspenders will be worn extensively this season.—Catherine Mann-Payant.

STATE FAIR CATALOGUE

It Was issued by the Sedalia Printing Co. Saturday.

The premium list for the seventh annual exhibition of the Missouri fair, to be held from October 5 to 11, inclusive, was issued yesterday from the office of the Sedalia Printing Co., and is a highly creditable production, like all of the work turned out by Ralph Manker, foreman of the establishment, and Fred C Dawson, foreman of the press room.

The book contains 150 pages, with many illustrations, and is by far the most complete and best catalogue ever issued by the fair board.

The outlook for the fair is the best in the history of the organization, and with good weather it is assured that the attendance will be far in excess of any past year.

S.S.S. NATURE'S TONIC

Every one should take a tonic in the Spring; their systems require it. The blood has become thick and sluggish with the accumulations left in the system from the inactive, indoor life and from the heavy, rich foods of the Winter season. The blood, being in this unnatural and disordered condition, is unable to furnish the body with the increased amount of nourishment necessary for the more energetic life of Spring and Summer, and the system suffers from debility, weakness, nervousness, indigestion, loss of appetite, and many other unpleasant symptoms of a disordered blood circulation. When the system is in this run-down and disordered condition it is not safe to take unknown concoctions, sarsaparillas, compounds, etc., because they usually contain potash or some other equally strong and harmful mineral ingredient, which acts unfavorably and often dangerously on the depleted, weakened system at a time when it needs gentle and natural stimulation to throw off the impurities and recuperate its lost energy. S. S. S. is appropriately called Nature's tonic. It is made entirely of roots, herbs and barks from the great storehouse of forest and field, selected for their purifying and health-restoring qualities, and as it does not contain the slightest trace of mineral in any form it is perfectly safe for young or old. S. S. S. acts directly on the blood, ridding it of all impurities and poisons, and restoring the lost properties of rich, nutritive strength so that it is able to supply the system with the healthful, invigorating energy needed to pass the trying season of the year. Its action is the most pleasant, prompt and satisfactory of all tonics, and those who feel the need of such a medicine will do well to commence the use of S. S. S. at once. S. S. S. restores lost energy, relieves the tired, worn-out feeling, helps the appetite, aids digestion, and adds tone and vigor to the system. THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

HUMAN BONES IN A BOX

A Katy Car That Was Foul-Smelling in the Extreme.

A gruesome find was made at Armstrong, I. T., five miles north of Durant, on the M. K. & T., in a box car, in the shape of the bones of a human body in a box about two feet wide by three feet long.

Although foul-smelling in the extreme, making approach to the box almost impossible, the bones were practically without flesh, which had been eaten from the bones by lime that had been placed in the box, supposedly for the purpose.

The box was in the bottom of a car of lime in barrels for a Texas company which is constructing a pipe line from Tulsa to the Gulf of Mexico and which is constructing a midway pumping station at Armstrong.

The unbearable stench drove the men from the car, but they returned later to open the box and make the horrible discovery.

TELLS OF TELEPHONES

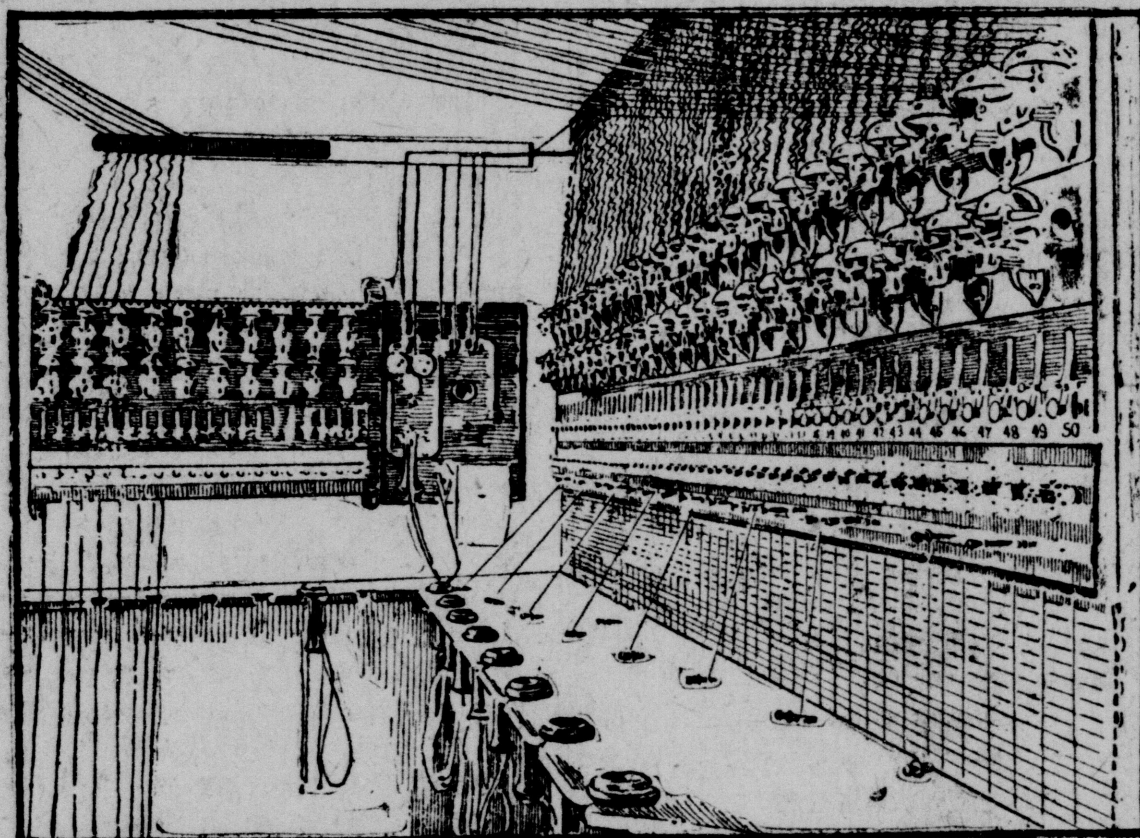

STORY OF THE EVOLUTION OF THE "SWITCHBOARD" IS FULLY SET FORTH.

IS THE THIRTEENTH ANNIVERSARY

First Crude Device for Connecting the Avenues of Speech Contrasted With Apparatus of Today.

Special to the Democrat-Sentinel.

Boston, June 29.—Next to the anniversary of Alexander Graham Bell's invention of the telephone instrument no industrial birthday is more interesting—and none, perhaps, is more important—than are the birthdays of the first telephone line and the first switchboard, which fall together about now. Thirty years ago in April a single wire was strung from the factory in Boston, where Bell's instruments were made, to the manufacturer's residence in Somerville, two or three miles out in the suburbs. This was the first telephone line ever constructed—the primal ancestor of the seven and a half million miles of wire which now connect more than three million subscribers' "stations" in the Bell system. At the beginning of the summer of 1877, soon after the erection of the first telephone line, several wires radiating from a common center were for the first time inter-connected by means of a crude device which, through evolution, has become the huge, intricate, highly perfected switchboard of today.

Next to the telephone itself, the switchboard is the most marvelous and most necessary feature of the communicating system. The work of the line builders has been the most spectacular, no doubt, but it would, after all, have counted for but little were it not allied with the inventive genius that devised the means of joining into one any two of the myriads of copper threads by which our voices are carried far and near.

The earliest attempt at inter-connection on the general plan of the exchange as we understand it today was made in Boston in May, 1877. There was then operating in this city a company which provided electrical burglar alarm service. It had a central station where the alarm signals were located, connected by wires with the premises of its various subscribers, who were chiefly bankers and merchants. Arrangements were made for the use of these lines and the central station as an experimental telephone exchange. Telephones were attached to five of the circuits—three in banks, one in the office of a firm of bankers, and one in the office of the manufacturer of the instruments—and repeatedly the wires were so connected in the alarm company's headquarters that conversations were carried on between the various subscribers.

The crude apparatus used for making these connections could hardly be called a switchboard, though it served, in a small way, the same purpose as does the large modern exchange. But it contained the germ of a great idea. It started experimentation as the result of which there was put into operation the following January a real telephone central office. Down in Bridgeport, Conn., there was a private telegraph system, private telegraphy being a sort of social fad, connected with it was Thomas B. Doolittle, already the inventor of many ingenious devices, and soon to be the producer of many more. Mr. Doolittle attached the telephone instrument to his society telegraph wires, modified the switchboard through which the lines had been connected, so that it could be manipulated lated by an operator, and attached signal bells to all the circuits as a means of calling the operator's attention. There were twenty subscribers served by this pioneer switchboard.

In the same month that Mr. Doolittle put his switchboard into operation, the first fully equipped commercial telephone exchange was established for public or general service was opened in New Haven, Conn. It was a success from the start, and no sooner was the success of the New Haven undertaking apparent than other cities began installing central offices. The possibilities thus given the telephone increased its popularity enormously, in spite of the hesitation and doubts nearly every one showed in the early days. June 30, 1877, there were 230 telephones in regular use—230 telephones in the whole world thirty years ago today, where now there are upwards of 7,000,000. Within a month after the number had more than trebled; within two months it had been multiplied by six; and by the spring of 1880, when the American Bell Telephone company, the first concern to attempt the unification of the telephone system, which alone gives it its full value, took up the business, there were in operation some 61,000 transmitting and receiving ing telephones. Meantime the central offices had multiplied wonderfully, and by March, 1881, there were in the United States only nine cities of more than 10,000 inhabitants and only one of more than 15,000 without a telephone exchange.

The early switchboards were curious contraptions besides the modern type of apparatus. They took several forms before the "multiple board," used by the Bell company for some twenty years now, was worked out. At first they had signal bells of different tones, one at the end of each subscriber's circuit, the distinctive tone indicating which line was "ringing up." Then numbered drops were adopted, each line having a metallic in the front of the board which, when the subscriber turned the generator crank, at the side of the instrument, fell so as to display the number of his line, and finally came the "common battery" switchboard now in use in all large cities and adapted to smaller exchanges in which the operator's signal is given by a tiny incandescent electric lamp. The one place in the telephone system where a bell never rings is now the central office.

Some of the early switchboards were big frames set along the side of the operating room, the connections being made by boys who ran from one point to another as the calls came in. Others were like elongated tables, the switch sockets being set into the flat top and the cords for connecting them being suspended from the ceiling. Apparatus of this sort was clumsy and slow to operate, besides being limited in the number of lines it could provide for. It was abandoned in the United States a quarter of a century ago, but it is a curious commentary on the lack of progressiveness in some directions of our trans-Atlantic cousins that it is still in use in some of the government operated exchanges of Europe. No doubt their backwardness in adopting improvements accounts for the small development of European telephone systems as compared with the development in this country.

In the last few years there has been devised so-called "automatic" telephone systems, in which the subscriber does the work of connecting between his line and the lines of other subscribers, instead of the work being done by an operator in central office.

In small communities where the expense of giving day and night, Sunday and holiday, all-the-year-round service by means of operators is prohibitive, a limited field of usefulness has been found for such mechanically worked exchanges. But the contention of telephone engineers that figures do not reveal all of the facts, for during the period covered no greater activity was shown in any department of electrical application than in telephony.

"The value returned for the 4,283 switchboards was $5,154,447, to which should be added the 3,917 private exchange boards of a value of $564,705, making a total of $5,719,152. To this should be added a large proportion of the value of $2,071,895 reported for telephonic parts and supplies. The subscribers' apparatus used in connection with these exchange boards and smaller equipments were reported as having a value of $8,003,735, of which $6,483,418 was represented by the complete sets of transmitters and receivers."

And this is just the apparatus and equipments for central offices and subscribers' stations, taking no account of the expenditures upon the outside lines, overhead, underground and submarine.

Better Than Spanking.

Spanking does not cure children of bed wetting. If it did there would be few children that would do it. There is a constitutional cause for this. Mrs. M. Summers, box 412, Notre Dame, Ind., will send her home treatment to any mother. She asks no money. Write her today if your children trouble you in this way. Don't blame the child. The chances are it can't help it.

Operated Upon at Maywood.

Mrs. A. J. Tucker was operated upon at Maywood hospital Thursday by Dr. W. J. Ferguson, assisted by Dr. Guy Titworth, and Saturday was reported as doing very nicely.

OFFICERS WERE CHOSED

Then a Social Session Was Held, Followed by a Dance.

Missouri council No. 23, Pocahontas, I. O. R. M., Friday night elected the following officers:

Pocahontas—Mrs. W. A. Cue.
Winonach—Mrs. Emma Smith.
Powhatan—W. A. Cue.
Prophetess—Mrs. Lulu Kahler.
Deputy great Pocahontas—R. C. Delph.

Trustee (eighteen months)—Homer W. Robbins.

Harry Umsted, of Apache tribe, was adopted as a Pocahontas and became a member of the council.

Great Sachem H. H. Edwards extended an invitation to the members of the council to attend the Red Men's memorial services, which are to be held this afternoon at the Fifth Street M. E. church.

At the conclusion of the council a social session was held, followed by a dance.

CHRONIC DISEASES!

Long and extensive experience in the treatment of Chronic Diseases enables me to guarantee you a CURE in many cases that have been abandoned by family physicians as INCURABLE. THE TRUTH of the statement I daily VERIFY. My office is especially equipped for making a thorough, searching, accurate, scientific examination of every man or woman who comes to me for treatment. If a doctor thoroughly understands your case it is then an easy matter to give you the proper treatment. UNDER NO CIRCUMSTANCES will I accept a case for treatment and hold out hopes unless I am convinced that my modern methods will give satisfactory results.

CONSULTATION FREE AND CONFIDENTIAL.

If you have any Chronic, Long-standing or Stubborn Disease, you should call at my office for examination and advice. I treat all Chronic, Nervous, Blood, Skin, Special and Private Diseases of Men and Women.

HAD A ROOSTER SUPPER

THE REV. J. B. TOOMAY, FORMER CONGREGATIONAL MINISTER IN SEDALIA.

IT MADE A HIT WITH THE GUESTS

Some of the Dishes Had Names That Really Kept the Banqueters Guessing, but They Were Surely Palatable.

The Rev. J. B. Toomay, a former pastor of the Second Congregational church in Sedalia, was written of as follows in Saturday's St. Louis Globe-Democrat:

The "rooster supper" given by the Rev. J. B. Toomay and the other members of the Men's society of the Fountain Park Congregational church was a great success, if the ladies suffer no subsequent attacks of indignation from partaking of the good things prepared by the male culinary artists.

The guests, of rather the wives and "best girls" of the members of the society, were escorted to the groaning festal board at 7:01 p. m. They were not permitted to leave until a large bulk of the "grub" had been consumed. None of the ladies had ever before seen so many unfamiliar faces on a bill of fare.

There was an abundance of hors d'oeuvre a la Traber, a big batch of poulet frite a la Turner, and abundance of viande froide assortie a la H. Koppin; Poussin de terre naturel a la Goodnow; salad lettuce avec mayonnaise a la Fulton; petit pain el bourre a la T. Koppin-Downing, and glace et gateaux a la Tiffin.

The first course—cafe a la creme a la Jones-Jarvis—proved very popular, since the ladies were so glad to reach it! It will be observed that the name of the culinary artist was attached to his dish, thereby begetting fame. Only one of the ladies was allowed to express her feelings. That was Mrs. Carrie Gordon Leland, in response to the toast by Rev. J. B. Toomay.

The other speakers were: E. A. Weber, on the toast, "Our Cooks;" H. S. Turner, on "Our Waiters," and R. M. Fulton, on "Vacation Time."

Heart Strength, or Heart Weakness, means Nerve Strength, or Nerve Weakness—nothing more. Positively, not one weak heart in a hundred is in itself actually diseased. It is almost always a hidden tiny little nerve that really is all at fault. This obscure nerve—the Cardiac, or Heart Nerve—simply needs, and must have, more power, more stability, more controlling, more governing strength. Without that the heart must continue to fail, and the stomach and kidneys also have these same controlling nerves. This clearly explains why, as a medicine, Dr. Shoop's Restorative has in the past done so much for weak and ailing hearts. Dr. Shoop first sought the cause of all this painful, palpitating, suffocating heart distress. Dr. Shoop's Restorative—this popular prescription—is alone directed to these weak and wasting nerve centers. It builds; it strengthens; it often real genuine heart help. If you would have strong hearts, strong digestion, strengthen these nerves—re-establish them as needed, with

A LETTER FROM GOTHAM

TIDE OF EUROPEAN TRAVEL IS UNPRECEDENTED FROM NEW YORK CITY.

GYPSY RIGO QUITS METROPOLIS

Is There a Split in the Thaw Family?—National Convention of Waiters Was in Session at Terrace Garden.

Special to Democrat-Sentinel.

New York, June 29.—Almost unprecedented is the tide of European travel from New York, reaching its high water mark today when a small army of Yankees sailed for an invasion of England and the continent. The bulk of the passages were engaged to Liverpool, although the French, Italian and German liners also carried full passenger lists. Among those sailing today were noted Dr. Vogol, minister to the United States from Switzerland, who will spend the summer in his native Alps, and the Hon. Maud Pauncefoot, who was a passenger on the Lucania for Liverpool.

Americans are doing a great deal of traveling these days, not only New Yorkers, but people from every nook and corner of the nation. That prosperity obtains in the western and southern states is conclusively shown by the number of European tourists who hail from cities and towns in those sections. Most of these sight-seers make their first stop in John Bell's tight little island and then ford the channel and spread their battalions over France, Germany, Italy and Switzerland, to say nothing of the comparative few who go to Sweden and Norway's icy hills and the empire of the Great White Bear.

Rigo, the famous gypsy violinist who some time ago created an international sensation by eloping with Clara Ward, of Detroit, and who of late has been the head of the Royal Imperial orchestra, has retired from that position. He is succeeded by Nyary Bela, the talented cimbalist of the orchestra. Bela is the elder brother of Nyary Rudl, the young Hungarian fiddler, who recently married a real countess in Paris. He is the owner of the world's largest cimbalion, a quaint Hungarian instrument resembling a piano, except that the strings are struck with hammers held in the hands of the players instead of being attached to ivory keys. The entire orchestra has been engaged for the summer at the Harlem Casino, at One Hundred and Twenty-Fourth street and Seventh avenue, where Bela and his musical associates will discourse sweet music for the benefit of the diners at New York's largest summer restaurant.

Persistent reports to the effect that Mrs. William Thaw and her beautiful artist-model daughter-in-law are not on friendly terms have been circulated of late and developments tend to prove their accuracy. Evelyn Nesbit Thaw, who until lately lived at the Hotel Lorraine, has now taken a house in Park avenue, where she lives alone with a small retinue of servants. Mrs. William Thaw will spend the summer in Pittsburgh, but her daughter-in-law has not been invited to share her seclusion. The elder woman comes weekly to New York to visit her son in the Tombs, but on these occasions does not meet Evelyn. The latter sees her husband daily, but her calls are so timed that she never meets Mrs. William Thaw.

The revelations that Evelyn Nesbit Thaw made in regard to her life during the famous trial of Harry Thaw for the murder of Stanford White, opened Mrs. Thaw's eyes in regard to the character of her son's wife and created so much dislike that she is reported to have declared that she would under no circumstances live under the same roof with her. Only the fact that Thaw is again to be tried prevents the mother from openly ignoring the unfortunate girl.

According to a statement issued by the elder Mrs. Thaw, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Carnegie and J. C. Thaw will be present at the coming trial, and will leave Europe in time to arrive before the beginning of the great legal battle. The first national convention of hotel and restaurant waiters ever held in the United States, in session at the Terrace garden during the week, adjourned today and most of the delegates are leaving for their homes. Most of the visitors were those who had made "waiting" a life profession, and a majority were clever linguists, able to speak two or more languages fluently. Part of the deliberations of the convention were carried on in French, with which practically all the visitors were familiar.

The convention comprised the first general meeting ever held of the American administration of the Geneva union, an international organization of waiters with branches in Austria-Hungary, Belgium, Cape Colony, Egypt, France, Great Britain, Germany, Greece, Holland, Italy, Switzerland, Sweden, Spain and Turkey.

The American administration was founded only three years ago, but now has members in every large city of the country. The principal guest of honor at the meeting was Oscar Zahn, of Dresden, Germany, general secretary of the international union. He is a scholarly and accomplished man and a typical representative of an exceedingly cosmopolitan organization. In Europe the guild of waiters is an ancient and honorable one and the American branch will attempt to bring about this spirit among waiters of the United States.

SUNDAY SCHOOLS' WORK

THE WEEKLY CONTRIBUTION OF COUNTY SUPERINTENDENT
G. L. SHEPARD.

CONVENTION IN COOPER COUNTY

It Will Be Attended By County Superintendent Shepard—A Strong Article on Sunday School Teaching.

To the Democrat-Sentinel.
Last Sabbath we attended the Broadway Presbyterian Sunday school. This is one of our best schools, has an excellent corps of officers and teachers and is doing good work, but, like every other Sunday school in Sedalia, it is susceptible of great improvement.

There is not a Sunday school in our city that could not be improved more than one hundred per cent in the next six months if earnest and united effort were made in the right direction. We feel prepared to prove this proposition to the entire satisfaction of any who may doubt it.

The past week has been one of extremes—some marked signs of success and encouragement in our work, and several severe disappointments. Let all who have failed to send us those five essential points to success in Sunday school work, also those of officers and ministers who failed to attend the conference at the Broadway Presbyterian church Thursday evening, make a note of this.

We have promised to attend the Cooper county Sunday school convention July 8th and 9th and expect to use the replies to our query in tabulated form on that occasion. Please send them in at once.

The First Congregational Sunday school has commenced work on the formation of a home department in their school. Brother F. I. Boies was engaged in this work at the time of his death, several years ago, and nothing has been accomplished in that line since. We trust that a large and faithful department will be formed.

We attended the teachers' meeting of the Broadway Presbyterian Sunday school Wednesday evening at the church parlors. This is the second of a series of monthly meetings and was a very enjoyable occasion. They meet at 6 o'clock, partake of a nice lunch together and then discuss ways and means for the improvement of the school. This is an excellent plan, and we trust will meet with a large measure of success.

We present this week an article from "The Advance" on Sunday school teaching. This is the best presentation of the subject that we have seen in a long time. We trust our Sunday school workers will give it careful thought.

Sunday School Teaching.

The present condition of the American Sunday school is not satisfactory. This is not disputed—it is keenly felt by the majority of those who are most engaged in the work. And it is not strange that there is an increasing pressure of some kind of a change. Just now this demand runs in the direction of the introduction of a graded system. This was the burden of the talk of the subject at the Chicago ministers' meeting.

But it is a question whether grading the lessons or the study is what is most needed or would get to the root of the trouble. The worst weakness of the case seems to be that the lessons are hardly studied at all by the pupils and only half taught by those in charge of the classes. Boys and girls who are fairly studious in the day schools come into Sunday school without having looked at their lessons. And so long as this is the case what difference does it make whether the lesson is of the graded kind, the old-fashioned kind or any other kind? Moreover it is rather common for the boys and girls to pay little attention to the lesson after they get into the class. They are otherwise engaged. And when boys are sticking pins into one another and girls are discussing the last or the next party it does not matter much whether the system is graded or not. It is a steep grade for the poor teacher to climb anyhow. By telling stories or working up an attraction she may arrest attention for a little while, but that can be done without any system. And if the teacher has come to the class without having more than discovered where the lesson is, it is about all that can be done.

The first need, therefore, of the Sunday school is more study on the part of the pupils, and in many cases more preparation on the part of teachers. But how this is to be brought about is a most serious question. In day schools pupils are compelled to study. In Sunday schools they are not compelled to study. The difference is manifest. It can be wiped out by heroic treatment on the part of the Sunday schools. Pupils who refuse or neglect to study their lessons can be dropped out. But this is a course which is not likely to be adopted. Parents could do much to improve the situation by requiring children to study the lessons. But neither father or mother have time for this. The father is busy reading the Sunday newspaper and the mother is clearing away the dishes of a late breakfast or trying to get the children into their Sunday clothes. Besides, it would seem like a joke to suggest such a thing to some parents.

With respect to the graded courses themselves, we must not draw too heavily on a comparison with the courses in the public schools. In the latter there is a very great range of studies, running from the alphabet through all the mathematics and natural sciences to the classics and art and philosophy. Nothing can be more natural and easy than graded courses. But in the Sunday school there is only one book, one course—from Genesis to Revelation. It is not so natural or so easy to break this into different courses. Nor is it so obvious that it needs to be done. Take the Joseph lesson, for example; it is a story which grips the interest of the child with marvelous fascination and at the same time it is a story for men. Joseph was a man of affairs and all the great lessons of faith and practical life are embodied in his experience. Nothing can be more touching to the child, nothing more profound for the man and the woman. All that is needed is that the lesson should be taught to children as children and to men and women as men and women. And this is what is now done in our Sunday schools. There is a practical gradation of teaching all the way from the infant class to the Bible class. This fact does not seem to be sufficiently recognized in the demand for graded courses.

But, as we said at the beginning, the need of improvement in the Sunday schools is pressing, and there should be an open mind toward all suggestions which look in this direction. If graded lesson courses will help to improve matters, let them be tried. At the same time pastors could do something to improve the interest in Bible study by making their preaching more biblical. Before the writer are full reports of three sermons preached by the most distinguished pastors in New York and Brooklyn. Not one of these sermons is biblical. They begin with a text and that is about all the direct reference there is to the Bible. And it is not too much to say that thousands of other pastors constructed their sermons after the same fashion.

Now it may be that these preachers feel that they have been following a graded course and that they have graduated out of the Bible. But one would naturally think that if we are to have a new graded course it should include the pulpit, and make the preacher head professor and the congregation senior class in Bible study. Certain it is, that great Bible preachers could send an influence down through the congregation and the Sunday school which would greatly increase the interest in, and improve the quality of, Bible study.

HILLS BUSINESS COLLEGE

Hill's Business college and its friends have always been proud of the standing of the school at home among those who have an opportunity to know of its work and the class of positions filled by its graduates. A comparison of the enrollment of the school for the year 1906-7 and the preceding year shows that the number of students enrolled from Sedalia and Pettis county has increased 47 per cent over that of the preceding year, while the increase in the enrollment during the last year from Sedalia alone, as compared with the preceding year, is 55 per cent. No stronger recommendation than this is possible for any school, for when the people of its home town give a school such endorsement as this there can be no question as to the quality of work which it is doing.

The record for the last six months in both the enrollment and the employment departments is very gratifying. Indeed, this week Mr. Samuel A. Punch, of Bloomfield, Mo., brother of the county clerk of Stoddard county, enrolled with us for the full shorthand course. Mr. Punch has just completed his first year in the law school of the Missouri State University, and is a young man of unusual intelligence and ability. Realizing the value of shorthand in pursuing his course at the university, he felt it to his advantage to drop out of school for a semester and master the only practical system of shorthand for the lecture room and notations on the margins of text and reference books. The high standing of Hill's Business college among the educators of the state is responsible for his 300-mile trip to enroll in this school, passing through cities where ten different business colleges are located, all of which were bidding for his patronage, and many of them at considerably lower prices than he paid for his scholarship here.

Just one instance concerning the demand for graduates of this well known school will illustrate the work of the employment department. In response to a telegram from Mr. M. J. Drury, of the Santa Fe railroad at La Junta, Col., Mr. Luther Boger was sent to take a position at $65 per month as stenographer. The telegram stated that the excellent stenographers which we have furnished that system at Wellington, Kan., was responsible for the request.

It is better to have a gradual growth as a result of good instruction and competent graduates than to depend upon the forced growth through "modern advertising methods."

PAYS $3,600 FOR $1

Philadelphia Collector Gets Silver Coin of Mintage of 1804.

Philadelphia, June 29.—A single United States silver dollar of the coinage of 1804 brought $3,600 here at the sale of the collection of the late M. Stickney, the best price during the sale except $6,200, which a dealer paid for a famous Brasher's New York doubloon, the face value of which is only $16.

There are but six specimens of the 1804 dollar known to be extant, one of which is now at the mint in this city. Stickney received the rare coin on May 9, 1843, from the local mint in exchange for other coin.

It weighs a trifle less than 415 grains, and, having been kept in a chamolite bag, is extremely fine and brilliant.

Before it changed hands again at the end of sixty-four years, dealers and collectors vied with each other in raising its value with their spirited bidding. Mr. Chapman, who finally carried it off, opened the bidding with $1,000. His competitors ran the price up in jumps of $250 at a time, until the price had soared to $3,000. Then Mr. Chapman's bid of $3,600 got the treasure.

Equally interesting was the bidding for an 1815 United States half eagle, which was finally captured by H. S. Chapman for $2,000. This coin is of great rarity, there being only six extant.

The Congregation.

There is a tiny church near the foot of one of the Western Gramplians which has a congregation numbering, in the best of weather, not more than 20 people. On stormy days the number is much less, as members have to travel considerable distances. A tourist happened to come across this church early one Sunday afternoon. He listened for a bit, but heard no sound, so went to the door of the church and looked in. The beadle was the only occupant. "Is the service over?" he asked. "Oh ay, she will be over," replied the old man. "Then, where is the congregation?" asked the tourist. The beadle slowly pointed through the open door to a man wending his way down a hill and said, "That's him."

NOTES OF THE LIBRARY

THE "STORY HOUR" WILL BE RESUMED AT 10 O'CLOCK A. M. MONDAY.

MISS M. CURRAN WILL ENTERTAIN

The Children With Interesting Stories of the Fourth of July and Why Americans Celebrate the Day.

The children seem much interested in the story hour this year. Last week they met in the art room and listened to Miss Curran tell stories about King Arthur. Tomorrow she will tell about why we celebrate the Fourth of July. Ten o'clock is the hour.

The library will be closed all day Thursday, July 4th.

The naming by Governor Folk of Miss Adelaide J. Thompson, librarian of the public library, Jefferson City; Ford B. Wright, librarian public library, St. Joseph, and Dr. J. P. Green, president of William Jewell college, Liberty, as the appointive members, completes the personnel of the Missouri Library commission. President Jesse of the state university and Superintendent of Education Gass being ex-officio members. This commission was authorized at the regular session of the legislature.

The great success of library commissions in many states, and the fact that much of the work to be undertaken has been outlined and simplified by them until at this time it is a developed science, leads to the hope that little time will be lost in getting things under way in this state.

The bill creating the commission carried an appropriation of $10,000 for two years, all of which goes to cover the expenses of establishing and carrying on free traveling libraries and the general work of the commission. Members of the commission receive no pay. Under the provisions of the bill the commission shall give advice to all school, free and public libraries, and to all communities which may propose to establish them, as to the best means of establishing and maintaining such libraries, the selection of books, cataloging and other details of library management. It may purchase and operate traveling libraries, circulating them among communities, libraries, schools, colleges, universities, library associations, study clubs, penal and charitable institutions.

tutions, free of cost except for transportation

In addition to the features common to the most progressive library commission bills, the Missouri law provides for a new line of work which is attracting attention from library and educational workers generally. Recognizing the vast help to be derived from teachers in directing children to the proper use of the right kind of books—in the knowledge of what to read as well as how to read—the commission is directed, in connection with and under the supervision of the president of each normal school of the state, to arrange for courses of not less than four lectures at each of these schools, on book selection, use and care of books, cataloging and library administration; to cooperate with the state school library board in devising plans for the care of school district libraries, and in aiding teachers in school library administration and in formulating rules governing the use of such libraries throughout the state.

Much of this work heretofore has been done by the libraries of the state, while the State Federation of Women's Clubs has conducted for some years a system of traveling libraries. The bill was earnestly supported by the State Teachers' association and by the women's clubs.

$1,000 FOR A "BUM" JOB

SOUTH DAKOTA FARMER LEARNS HE'S A MERCHANT AND NOT AN AGENT.

A SUIT AGAINST A ST. LOUIS FIRM

Wants the Donnell Manufacturing Co. to Return His Cash Bond, But the Defendant Declines So to Do.

St. Louis, Mo., June 29.—When Edward D. Quinn, a farmer, Watertown postoffice, S. D., sent the Donnell Manufacturing Co., of St. Louis a billhead on which his name appeared as local agent of the company, he received by return mail the startling information that he was not the company's agent, but in business for himself; that he had bought $1,000 worth of vanilla extract, chili tonic, wash blueing and other sundries, when he thought he was merely putting up a $1,000 cash bond to obtain a job at $150 a month and 5 per cent commission on sales.

These facts are all set forth in a suit filed by Quinn against the Donnell Manufacturing Co. in which he seeks to have the contract revoked and to recover his money.

Accompanied by his attorney, N. P. L. Rosch, Quinn visited the federal building Friday and made complaint to the postal authorities against the Donnell Manufacturing Co. and John W. Donnell, its president, and later visited the four courts to lay the matter before the circuit attorney.

Quinn, after vainly trying to sell the goods that had been sent him at the prices named by the St. Louis concern, gave up in despair, came to St. Louis and hired a lawyer.

Last February, Quinn, who was then living at Turton, S. D., received a letter from the Donnell Manufacturing Co. at 610 South Sixth street. The letter stated that the advertisement department of the company had learned that he was open to a good business proposition.

It then went on to say that the company was anxious to open a branch agency at Watertown, and thought from the information concerning Quinn that he would be just the man for the job.

The job, so the letter stated, would pay $150 a month, and 5 per cent commissions on the sales. Quinn was told that his commissions ought easily to amount to as much more as the salary.

As the letter stated that it was not necessary for the agent to have any experience in the business, he thought he might as well make a try for the job. He answered the letter, and promptly received a reply, in which it was stated that he would be expected to carry a stock of goods valued at $1,000, but that the money would be returned to him at the stated time.

Quinn was not then so much impressed with the job, but after writing to a friend in Minneapolis, who was a manufacturers' agent and had put up a cash bond, he at length concluded that he would answer some of the letters that had been pouring in on him from St. Louis with the "fund" to close the deal.

About April 1 Quinn started for St. Louis, with a check in his pocket for $1,000. He went to the company's office and says that he was told by the defendants that he was in every way satisfactory. A contract was then prepared, which Quinn says he read and found to be satisfactory.

Up to this time Quinn says he had conducted his negotiations with J. W. Gorman, who represented himself as manager of the company. Gorman took the contract and passed it over to John W. Donnell, the plaintiff charges, and that about five minutes later he and Donnell signed a paper which he supposed was the contract he read in the company's office.

By the time Quinn got to Watertown he found Gorman there waiting for him. Gorman had already rented an office for Quinn, fitted it out with a flat-top table and two chairs. Quinn says he complained to Gorman that contracts had been "switched" on him, and was told that a mistake might have been made, but if it was it would be rectified.

In the course of a few days the company began shipping large quantities of vanilla extract, chili tonics, pine tars, baking powders, perfumes and among other things 2328 packages of wash blueing. These were shipped to him, the letter stated, in response to his "order," which Quinn says he had never given. In a short time Quinn had received goods to the retail value of $1,666, which were charged up to him at $1,000, as he was to get a discount of 40 per cent from the retail price.

As there are no chills and ague in Quinn's part of South Dakota he shipped back the chili tonic that had been sent to him.

GALVESTON NUN WILL BE AN ASSISTANT TO MOTHER GENERAL IN ROME.

SHE'S HEROINE OF THE TIDAL WAVE

English-Speaking Ursulines of the World to Be Ruled by Mother Mary Joseph, Who Has Quite a History.

Galveston, Texas, June 29.—Mother Mary Joseph, superioress of the southern province of Ursuline nurses, with headquarters at Galveston, has been elected assistant to the mother-general in Rome and head of the English-speaking Ursulines of the world. She leaves at once for Rome.

Mother Mary Joseph is a remarkable woman, a renowned educator, and was a heroine of the Galveston storm. The Ursuline institute, occupying two blocks of ground, was on the edge of the devastated district in the storm of September 8, 1900. It was the house of refuge for over 1,000 persons on the fatal night. The hurricane was at its height when 300 negro refugees, who had been sheltered in the wing of the big building, became panic stricken, and shouting and screaming, madly rushed through the structure.

It was then that Mother Joseph mounted a chair and rang the convent bell, headed off the mob and guided them into the assembly hall. Here she lectured them and told them that it was no time nor place to hold camp-meetings, and that men and women were needed to rescue storm victims and nurse the wounded and dying.

In ten minutes she had converted the mob into a hospital corps, and every man and woman went to work rescuing flood sufferers through the windows of the building and nursing the wounded and suffering.

We don't care if you are skeptical; we don't care if you have no confidence. It makes no difference to us. Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea will do the work or no pay—that's fair. 35 cents.—W. E. Pard Drug Co.

GRANVILLE ALLISON IN JAIL

Wilson Hall Brought Prisoner From Iowa Without Disturbance.

Deputy Sheriff Wilson Hall returned from Albia, Ia., Friday morning and brought with him Granville Allison, says Friday's Columbia Herald. Allison is charged with assaulting Miss McAfee, the daughter of a section foreman in Centralia, Sunday night, June 16. Allison was arrested in Des Moines and now rests in the Boone county jail.

Excitement at Centralia was high for a while, but Mr. Hall had no trouble in keeping his prisoner, as the people were not expecting him to come that way.

The prisoner had a very short wait in Centralia. The maximum penalty of Allison's crime is death.

A prompt, pleasant, good remedy for coughs and colds, is Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup. It is especially recommended for babies and children, but good for every member of the family. It contains no opiates and does not constipate. Contains honey and tar and tastes nearly as good as maple syrup. Children like it. Sold by Arlington pharmacy.

Won the Gold Medal.

At the Sedalia Gun club shoot Friday afternoon the gold medal was won by W. L. Sprague, whose score was 22 out of a possible 25. The next highest were Jesse Neff and Fred Hoffman, Jr., 16 each.

Late Gen. Shelby's Uncle Dies.

Thomas Shelby, 89 years old, died at Lexington last Friday night. He had been a resident of Lafayette county since 1833. He was the father of Joseph B. Shelby, who represented Lafayette county three terms in the state legislature, and the uncle of the late Gen. Joseph Shelby.

She Missed the Train.

Mrs. David Williams, formerly of this city, but now of Hughesville, was shopping in the city Friday. She intended returning home on the afternoon train, but missed it by a minute, and was compelled to remain over here until Saturday.

Saloon Fixtures Destroyed.

Judge W. L. Simonds, of the district court at Fort Scott, Kas., has ordered destroyed $2,500 worth of saloon fixtures, which were seized by Sheriff Hesser some time ago, when the bid was on.

The brewers recovered almost all their property when the saloons were closed, and had no representative at the trial.
